Thank You, Essential Workers!

Our Middle School HCC students are expressing kindness and saying THANK YOU to Essential Service workers! For their assignment, the students in grades 5-8 were asked to make a sign to hang in their windows or somewhere visible from the street to say THANK YOU to essential service workers. The goal was to make the sign big enough to be seen from the street, so that all the essential service workers could read it as they go to work! Check out a few of the signs they made to show their gratitude for all the frontline workers are doing during the COVID-19 crisis!

FRCS Celebrates Teacher Appreciation Week!

May 4th – May 8th was Teacher Appreciation Week! It's an incredible opportunity to say thank you to the incredible men and women at FRCS who are enriching the lives of our students.

As we navigate these unprecedented times and take on roles and responsibilities that are very different for each of us, we are certainly all gaining a new appreciation for each other! Our community has pulled together and incredible things have been accomplished thanks to you at home and to our teachers and staff who are working tirelessly to bring some structure to learning. Kudos to all of our staff members as they stepped up in record time to initiate, create, develop and use tools to continue teaching remotely!

We invited families to send special SHOUT OUTS to thank a teacher or staff member who has impacted their child's life. The response was wonderful! Well over 150 messages of gratitude were sent in. We shared them on our website. We also chose a handful to share on social media. This helped engage the FRCS community, and inspired even more families to send in a special thank you to a teacher or staff member.

Celebrating the Class of 2020

The end of their senior year was certainly not what FRCS were expecting. So, we are doing what we can to show our class of 2020 that they are special! We will be honoring and celebrating our senior class over the next several weeks. We have started by sharing their Senior Sign Posts on our website and on social media. The signs are an assignment they received in Senior Advisory, and are typically hung in the hallway near the gym for all to see on Graduation night. The signs contain messages to the people the students feel helped them through their four years of High School, and a little bit of information about their plans for their future. Here are just a few examples:

Daunte Pean

I want to thank Hardie, G, DiPaolo, and the Ells' for giving me the opportunity to grow and push myself further.

And I want to give a special thanks to my mom! Without her support, love, and care, I know I wouldn't be here... AT ALL!

I chose Northeastern because it has a great Co-op program, an awesome engineering program and various opportunities

Next step "21 to succeed.

Thank you Mr. Dyer! - Sandra Montrond, Parent

"These two teachers (Ms. Leary and Mr. Dyer) have given the kids an entire new meaning for the role of a Principal. They have taken their GREAT Classroom styles and taken it to the next level. In their classrooms they have always made it clear that they had high expectations of each of their students and they would not settle or let them settle for less. But just as equal they assured the kids that they would be there every step to help them. In their classes they made it easy for kids to raise their hands and speak up stating what they needed. They were there for the kids before and after school. And yes, the following year both of my kids had to stop in and say hello and check in with them to give them updates. As Principals the kids share "They are more serious when they stand in the hallways than they were in the class rooms, but unlike other principals we can still go to them for anything and they still expect the best of us!" What else could you want from a principal? My children truly look up to them and respect them just as I do! THANK YOU for EVERYTHING!" - Sandra Montrond, Parent

During this time of remote learning, she is always willing to help us as we enter the most difficult part of the curriculum in preparation for AP Calculus next year. She will set aside time to meet with us either one-on-one or in small groups to guide us along with the math problems at hand. Her remote learning lessons demonstrate a great deal of commitment on her part, and her students (including myself) greatly appreciate her drive to ensure that all of us succeed in a difficult math course. Next year, I will have the privilege to conduct a Senior Independent Enrichment course on accounting and management with Ms. Eby as my advisor. "Mr. H Has been an AMAZING teacher this year, for Cali. He brings a new creative outlook on teaching. While school was still going on Cali would always have multiple NEW and FUN things to share from her school day and ALL of them were about Mr. H Class. His teaching has really EXCITED Cali in her learning and we could not be happier about that. We also LOVE the "HOOK"EM HORNS" and the Basketball games that he coaches." Steve and Kim Raymond, Parents

Mr. H Hardie

"Mr. Hardie continues to devote a great deal of time to help students both in class, on the volleyball court, and in extracurricular activities. Without his superb advisorship of the National Honor Society, we would not be able to carry out the many projects we completed this year. Likewise, had it not been for his tireless effort to ensure our debate team is well prepped for each tournament, I would not have been able to become the victor in the state championships this year. Most high school students cite Mr. Hardie as one of their favorite high school teachers, and there is no question as to why: his passion is unrivaled, and his antics memorable. Whether it is getting on top of a table to rant about the movie adaptation of "The Great Gatsby" to throwing a stress ball at anyone who walks in late to class, Mr. Hardie will forever be remembered by all high school students who dare to enter Room 223. As an English teacher, he has helped to improve my writing, critical reading, and presentation skills, all needed to be successful in the world of business, which I intend to enter after college. I have had the privilege to refine my skills in two classes with him, and I look forward to taking two more classes with him in my senior year :)" - Daniel Currier, Student

"Aditya was interested in MS Science Fair, and he is in fifth grade, and typically fifth graders are considered not ready. But sensing Aditya's enthusiasm, she encouraged him to participate. She conducted periodic check in sessions to help all the interested kids prepare for their science project and stay on track. She helped them write their science papers, and graded them and suggested more work. She helped them get ready for Science Fair without getting overwhelmed! Aditya was so excited and nervous at the same time! We were thrilled when he got an 'honorable mention' for his project. Again 5th graders are not considered ready for Region III Science Fair, but she requested the Chair and put in a word for Aditya, so he could participate in the Region III Science Forum and experience the fun! Truly none of that could have happened without Ms. Kraus. She is truly invested in seeing her students succeed! During the past few weeks of lockdown, her emails and activities have always cheered up my kid. Thank you so much Ms Kraus! Per everyone else also the best decorated rooms :-)" - Sandra Montrond, Parent

"These two teachers (Ms. Leary and Mr. Dyer) have given the kids an entire new meaning for the role of a Principal. They have taken their GREAT Classroom styles and taken it to the next level. In their classrooms they have always made it clear that they had high expectations of each of their students and they would not settle or let them settle for less. But just as equal they assured the kids that they would be there every step to help them. In their classes they made it easy for kids to raise their hands and speak up stating what they needed. They were there for the kids before and after school. And yes, the following year both of my kids had to stop in and say hello and check in with them to give them updates. As Principals the kids share "They are more serious when they stand in the hallways than they were in the class rooms, but unlike other principals we can still go to them for anything and they still expect the best of us!" What else could you want from a principal? My children truly look up to them and respect them just as I do! THANK YOU for EVERYTHING!" - Sandra Montrond, Parent

"Miss L, as the kids call her, has been an exemplary teacher all year. She's creative, fun, and organized. I have appreciated that a lot of her assignments are hands on instead of just reading and writing, which I feel helps all types of learners succeed and retain what they've learned. During the pandemic I have really noticed her hard work and dedication to the students and their learning. From the very beginning Miss L has posted the entire week's worth of work, giving the kids time to coordinate with siblings and parents for computer time and schedule their week with what is coming from the other teacher. She posts videos of herself reading to the kids (and her adopted turkeys) which I feel helps the kids maintain a close connection with her. Miss L also stays in touch regularly with the students and the parents. As a parent, it is so helpful to know what is coming and is expected of our children. She helped our son enjoy school, feel good about himself and make new friends. She was always willing to challenge him and provide him with opportunities to grow. I really feel that she has gone above and beyond. I felt really comfortable reaching out to her and knew that she would get back to us and help us. Her love of teaching and children is obvious. She puts a lot of time and effort into her work with her students. She made a great impression from the first day we met her at the beginning of school block party. Drive-Thru Parking Lot Graduation – June 19, 2020

If we want this to work there are two rules...

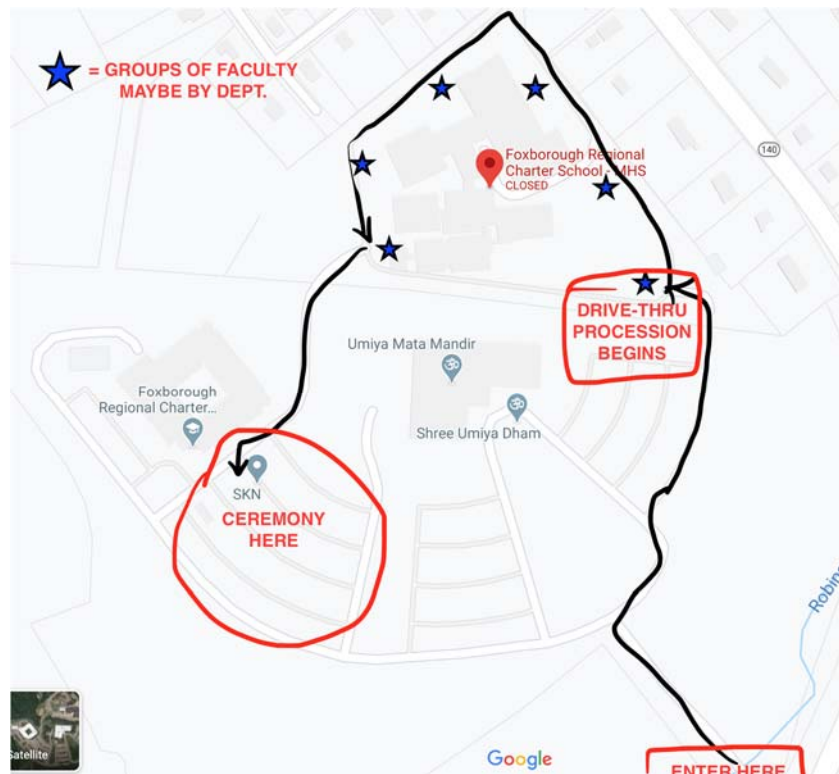

Rule #1: DO NOT GET OUT OF YOUR CAR

Rule #2: Refer back to rule #1

Day of Graduation

Procession:

- Students/families drive in through ES entrance → head towards student parking → continue around the building until they reach the pit → move toward the ES lot for ceremony
 - Faculty (safely distanced with marks/tape on sidewalk) stationed around the building with signs/balloons/posters/etc.
 - Pomp & circumstance playing while families driving around building
 - Once through the procession, all will move to spots in the ES lot
 - Roughly 260 parking spaces
 - Enough to allocate 2 spaces per student with 1 space between each car

Ceremony:

- All attending tuned in for live stream (link for stream in email sent to all seniors & parents, school website, social media accounts, digital program, etc)
 - Elsner has FM transmitter- 300ft radius works throughout ES lot.
 - Have this prepared as a backup
 - Make note of it in the program in case the live stream fails*
 - Live stream using: School Facebook? YouTube? (either way set to public)
 - Possibly incorporate a (or multiple) projector/screen & speaker so people don't have to livestream it?
 - Must be able to put the screen high enough for all to see (10 feet?)
 - May be difficult to see with sunlight anyway rendering projector/screens useless...

Ceremony Order:

Red font = Not necessary if we want to minimize the amount of people to go up on stage. These can be omitted or pre-recorded

- National Anthem (Volunteer student?)
- Pledge of Allegiance (President of NJHS?)
- Welcome (Mark)
- Salutatory Speech (Lydia)
- Performance from chorus/acapella/orchestra (need to reach out if we want to include these)
- Guest speaker (Keith Hawkins) pre-recorded video
- Presentation of Diplomas (Dave)
- Valedictorian Speeches (Need to discuss how Katya/Catherine want to work this out... Two separate? Some sort of combined speech? Back to back? Spread into two moments during the ceremony?)
- Presentation of the class of COVID-19 (Mike)
- Recessional as families drive away

Graduation Options:

Plan #1: As much in “real time” as possible

- All speakers must park nearest the podium (these spaces would be blocked off)
 - iPad (or whatever video equip) set up so no one has to touch it
 - One person up at the podium at a time (necessary to wipe down after each use?)
 - Announcing the graduates: Options A/B/C (only A includes diploma given in moment... B&C would be given at end of ceremony in drive-thru system)
 - (A) Dave announces: “student name, presented by diploma giver name”
 - Student flashes headlights/honks horn, faculty member walks over and places diploma in trunk (or other safe location on/near car)
 - Adds a safe personal aspect to the delivery
 - While faculty member walks to car, live stream switches to screen sharing of diploma giver video moment
 - Families uncomfortable with having their car in the “spotlight”?
 - (B) Same as “A” but without the diploma being brought to the car
 - (C) Dave announces: “student name, presented by diploma giver name”
 - Then play pre-recorded video of diploma giver moment
 - Best practice for switching between live stream and screen sharing?
 - Need someone on stage helping with tech during Dave graduate name reading
 - Need a special seat for them safely distanced from Dave..
 - Dave can switch between live stream/screen sharing on his own?
 - While everyone finds parking spaces we can offer a link to watch a looping compilation of pic/video moments with diploma givers for everyone to enjoy those moments and not have to worry about switching back and forth during the actual ceremony?
 - In this link we can also include the senior video for everyone to enjoy

Plan #2: All watch pre-recorded ceremony on streaming devices while sitting in cars in ES lot

- Loses personal touch/feeling of being in the moment with everyone together
- Makes the actual ceremony smooth

Before Graduation

Students come to campus

- Organized drive-thru to pick up:
 - Cap/gown/stoles
 - Diploma or transcripts (whichever route we take)
 - Letters organized by Juniors
 - T-shirt designed by student
 - FRCS face masks (maybe)
- Diploma Givers: Still want to incorporate this somehow!
 - Seniors are filling out google form listing who they want to give them their diploma, including phone # and email
 - Option A (not on campus)
 - I will reach out to giver and have them send in a short 5-10 second video “congratulations we’re so proud of you etc etc etc” which can be incorporated into the ceremony a few different ways
 - Option B
 - When students come pick up goods they have their diploma giver meet them there and we can organize a picture/video of the student in their cap/gown receiving their diploma
 - I can take these pictures or CoffeePond has reached out and can possibly coordinate with us as well
 - This depends on our timetable/schedule for having students on campus to pick up items...

Decorations

- Senior signposts- Heidi looking into printing on lawn signs so they can be along the entryway as families drive in
- Balloons. What would a graduation be without balloons!?
- Posters (created by faculty, students in councils/art programs, whoever wants to!)
 - How to get these from students to the school?
 - Same day as students/families pick up cap/gown?
- FRCS light post banners- Heidi is hoping these are in/up in time
- Flowers- Need some color and foliage to brighten up the event!

Tech/Facilities

- Projector(s) (good quality high res since outside in daytime and screen is huge)
- Screen(s) (order on Amazon- big enough for all to see from 100+ feet)
- Speakers for graduation ceremony
- iPad or whatever device for live streaming video from podium
- Speakers to have in procession area for pomp & circumstance
- WiFi hotspots? Alleviate families from having to use their data?
- Cones/barriers to direct traffic (signs?)
- Cones to block spaces in ES lot
- Tall staging and podium

Concerns/Questions

- Masks/gloves for students & faculty attending?
 - Purchase FRCS facemasks? Made by screen printing company?
- Need clearly marked spots for faculty to stand in procession
 - Blue tape? Use creases of sidewalk?
 - Where will faculty be during ceremony?
 - Temple lot adjacent? Around the perimeter of ES lot?
- Police detail (maybe 3-4)
 - Stationed during ceremony with Officer Will walking throughout parking lot?
- Faculty park in the temple lot that we use for parent-teacher conferences?
