The Edison Board of Directors supports all organizations of parents whose objectives are to promote the educational experiences of Edison students. However, in using the name, Edison School of the Arts, in organizing a group whose identity derives from the school, the parental organization thereby shares responsibility with this Board for the welfare of participating students.

The Board relies upon approved organizations to operate in a manner consistent with public expectations for the schools and reserves the right to withdraw sponsorship from organizations which violate these expectations.

The Board directs the CEO/Executive Director to establish guidelines to implement this policy.
