INTRODUCTION

The Human Resources Model Policy will provide a summary of statutes and regulations that apply to the human resources and labor relations functions of charter schools as employers, as well as specific model board policies designed to comply with these legal requirements and best practices.

These are suggested policies to address the requirements from state and federal law and State Board of Education Rules applicable to charter schools in South Carolina. Prior to adoption of model policies by a charter school board of a charter school, each policy should be customized by adding the school's name and by tailoring the language, where appropriate, to fit the school's specific needs. Public Charter School Alliance of South Carolina (PCSASC) recommends that the Board of a charter school consult with the school's legal counsel in connection with adopting and implementing the policies contained within this manual.

PCSASC plans to update the Model Board Policies for Charter Schools on an annual basis to reflect changes in applicable laws and regulations.

I. Employment Law and Labor Relations

Summary of Statutory Requirements

Charter schools are employers, and as such, are obligated to comply with overarching labor laws, including those related to civil rights, workplace safety, and a host of other areas. In addition, schools must comply with specific education laws and regulations which pertain to teacher qualifications, most notably Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Schools must also comply with state and local laws and regulations governing education, including the South Carolina Charter Schools Act of 1996, S.C. Code Ann. 59-40-10 et seq., as well as any other statutes and regulations regarding health and safety in the workplace, fingerprinting, and criminal background checks etc. The following is a summary of the major federal and state employment laws and regulations.

A. Wage and Hour - Fair Labor Standards Act

The FLSA establishes minimum wage, overtime pay, recordkeeping, and youth employment standards affecting full-time and part-time workers in the private sector and in federal, state, and local governments. The FLSA designates employees as either exempt or nonexempt from federal and state wage and hour laws. In accordance with the Department of Labor, most executive, administrative, and professional employees (including teachers and academic personnel in elementary and secondary schools) are considered exempt, meaning that they are exempt from both minimum wage and overtime pay provisions. Because exemptions are generally narrowly defined under the FLSA, schools should carefully check the exact terms and conditions for each category of employee. See <http://www.dol.gov/whd/regs/compliance/hrg.htm#8>.

The FLSA requires employers to pay nonexempt employees a minimum wage of not less than $7.25 per hour effective July 24, 2009. The minimum wage limitations periodically change and should be monitored to ensure compliance (<http://www.dol.gov>).

The Wage and Hour Division of the U.S. Department of Labor administers and enforces the FLSA. Because the Federal law is more stringent than the South Carolina law, an employer who is in compliance with federal law also complies with South Carolina law.

Poster Requirements

Every employer must post, and keep posted, a notice explaining the Act in a conspicuous place. Although there is no size requirement for the poster, employees must be able to readily read it.

For more information and resources including the Department of Labor workplace poster, see <http://www.dol.gov/compliance/topics/posters.htm>

B. Payment of Wages

South Carolina's wage payment provisions apply to all employers except those that employ fewer than 5 employees at all times during the preceding 12 months and those who employ domestic labor in private homes. Employers must notify each employee in writing at the time of hiring of all of the following: (a) the normal hours and wages agreed upon, (b) the time and place of payment, and (c) the deductions that will be made from the wages, including payments to insurance programs. The written notification can be given individually or by a posted notice. Any changes in these terms must be made in writing, and the changes cannot become effective until at least 7 calendar days after the written notice is given.

Employees must receive an itemized wage statement for each pay period that shows the employee's gross pay and the deductions made. All wages must be paid either by cash, negotiable warrant, check dated on the payday, or direct deposit. If wages are paid by direct deposit, the employee must be furnished a statement of earnings and withholdings.

Employees must be paid at the time and place designated in the written notice. No wages can be withheld or diverted by the employer unless the employer is required or permitted to do so by state or federal law, or the employer has given written notice to the employee of the amount and terms of the deduction.

Upon discharge, an employee is entitled to be paid all wages due within 48 hours or by the next regular payday, which may not exceed 30 days.

C. Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA)

The Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993 (FMLA) is a complicated federal statute, and this manual will only highlight the main points of the law. Schools are encouraged to consult an attorney regarding their FMLA policies and procedures.

The FMLA provides a means for employees to balance their work and family responsibilities by taking unpaid leave for certain family and medical reasons if the employer is covered under the FMLA. Generally, an employer is covered under the FMLA if, as of the date an employee gives notice of the need for leave, the employer maintained 50 or more employees on the payroll during 20 or more calendar workweeks (not necessarily consecutive workweeks) in either the current or preceding year. However, public, and private elementary and secondary schools are covered employers under FMLA without regard to the number of employees employed. But special rules apply to school employees.

Generally, the FMLA provides eligible employees up to 12 workweeks of unpaid leave for certain family and medical reasons during a 12-month period. To be an eligible employee, an employee must have worked for the employer for at least 12 months; the employee must have worked at least 1,250 hours in the last 12 months; and the employee must work at a worksite where the employer employs at least 50 employees within 75 miles.

Eligible employees may take leave for the following reasons:

1. To care for the employee's child after birth or placement for adoption or foster care of a child with the employee (leave taken for this reason must be completed within the 12-month period beginning on the date of birth or placement);
2. To care for an immediate family member (spouse, child, parent) who has a serious health condition (does not include the employee's in-laws);
3. To care for the employee's own serious health condition (including any period of incapacity due to pregnancy, prenatal care, or childbirth) that makes the employee unable to perform one or more of the essential functions of the employee's job; and
4. Due to any qualifying exigency arising out of the fact that an employee's spouse, son, daughter, or parent is a covered military member on active duty or has been notified of an impending call or order to active-duty status in the National Guard or Reserves in support of contingency operation.

A serious health condition is an illness, injury, impairment or physical or mental condition that involves either an overnight stay in a medical care facility or continuing treatment by a health care provider for a condition that either prevents the employee from performing the functions of the employee's job or prevents the qualified family member from participating in school or other daily activities.

Qualifying exigencies may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, and attending counseling sessions. In addition, eligible employees may take up to 26 weeks of unpaid leave to care for an ill or injured service member. When spouses are employed by the same employer, there are limits on the amount of FMLA leave they can take to care for a covered servicemember with a serious injury or illness and for the birth and care of a newborn child, for placement of a child for adoption or foster care, or to care for a parent who has a serious health condition.

FMLA leave is usually taken for a period of consecutive days, weeks, or months. However, employees may take FMLA leave intermittently (in separate blocks of time) or on a reduced leave schedule (reducing the usual number of hours the employee works each workday) when medically necessary due to a serious health condition of the employee or covered family member or the serious injury or illness of a covered servicemember. Employees will receive their current rate of pay for hours worked.

During an approved FMLA leave, the employee's group health insurance coverage will be maintained under the same terms and conditions during the leave as if the employee had not taken leave. However, the employee must continue to pay the employee's portion, if any, of the group health plan premiums or the employee's benefits may be canceled.

At the end of approved FMLA leave, subject to some exceptions where job restoration of "key employees" will cause the employer substantial and grievous economic injury, employees generally have a right to return to the same or equivalent positions with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms. Employees must be notified if they qualify as "key employees" if there is an intention to deny reinstatement and of their rights in such instances. "Key employees" are salaried employees that are within the highest paid ten percent of the workforce within 75 miles of the employee's worksite. The "key employee" exception only affects the employee's ability to be reinstated to his or her position, but does not affect the employee's ability to take leave under the FMLA. No more than ten percent of the workforce may be designated as "key employees." Paid FMLA is only offered to employees who have worked at LSC for a minimum of a full year.

Medical Certification

The employer has the right to request medical certification from the employee's health care provider supporting the need for the leave. If there is a reason to doubt the employee's medical certification, the employee may be required to obtain a second medical opinion at the employer's cost. If the opinions of the first and second health care providers differ, the employer may, at its expense, require employees to obtain a third, final and binding certification from a health care provider designated or approved jointly by the employer and the employee.

Depending upon the circumstances and the duration of FMLA leave, employees may be required to provide recertification of medical conditions giving rise to the need for leave.

Return to Work/Fitness for Duty Medical Certifications

Employers may require employees who were on FMLA leave due to their own serious health condition to provide a return-to-work certification from their health care provider

The FMLA makes it unlawful for employers to: (1) interfere with, restrain, or deny the exercise of any right provided under the FMLA; or (2) discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by FMLA or involvement in any preceding under or related to the FMLA. Employees who believe their rights under the FMLA have been violated may file a complaint with the Department of Labor or directly in federal or state court.

The FMLA does not affect any federal, state, or local law prohibiting discrimination, or supersede any state or local law or collective bargaining agreement which provides greater family or medical leave rights. For more information, contact <http://www.dol.gov/>.

Poster

All covered employers are required to display and keep on display a poster prepared by the Department of Labor summarizing the major provisions of the FMLA and telling employees how to file a complaint. The poster must be displayed in a conspicuous place where employees and applicants for employment can see it. Although there is no particular size requirement, the poster and all the text must be large enough to be easily read.

See Appendix A for a FMLA policy.

D. Equal Employment and Prohibition Against

The Federal and state laws prohibiting job discrimination are:

1. Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (Title VII) and S.C. law prohibit employment discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, or national origin;
2. The Equal Pay Act of 1963 (EPA) prohibits sex-based discrimination in pay on jobs that require equal skill, effort, and responsibility and that are performed under similar working conditions;
3. The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 (ADEA) and S.C. law prohibit discrimination on the basis of age against individuals who are 40 years of age or older;
4. Title I and Title V of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA) and S.C. law prohibit employment discrimination against qualified individuals with disabilities;
5. The Civil Rights Act of 1991, which, among other things, provides monetary damages in cases of intentional employment discrimination.

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) enforces all of these federal laws prohibiting discrimination and the S.C. Human Affairs Commission enforces the state anti-discrimination laws. EEOC also provides oversight and coordination of all federal equal employment opportunity regulations, practices, and policies. SPECIFICALLY, under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (ADEA), and under S.C. law, it is illegal to discriminate in any aspect of employment, including:

- hiring and firing;
- compensation, assignment, or classification of employees;
- transfer, promotion, layoff, or recall;
- job advertisements;
- recruitment;
- testing;
- use of company facilities;
- training and apprenticeship programs;
- fringe benefits;
- pay, retirement plans, and disability leave; or
- other terms and conditions of employment.

Discriminatory practices under these laws also include:

- retaliation against an individual for filing a charge of discrimination, participating in an investigation, or opposing discriminatory practices;
- employment decisions based on stereotypes or assumptions about the abilities, traits, or performance of individuals of a certain sex, race, age, religion, or ethnic group, or individuals with disabilities; and
- denying employment opportunities to a person because of marriage to, or association with, an individual of a particular race, religion, national origin, or an individual with a disability. Title VII also prohibits discrimination because of participation in schools or places of worship associated with a particular racial, ethnic, or religious group.

The provisions of S.C. law that prohibit discrimination apply to employers with 15 or more employees. Title VII and the ADA similarly apply to employers with 15 or more employees, and the ADEA generally applies only to employers with 20 or more employees.

The Civil Rights Act of 1866, 42 U.S.C. Section 1981 prohibits discrimination against employees based upon their race and applies to all employers regardless of whether or not that have 15 employees. Race is defined broadly to mean identifiable classes of persons based upon their ancestry or ethnic characteristics. The law prohibits employers from retaliating against their employees for asserting their rights to be free of discrimination.

Title VII's broad prohibitions against sex discrimination specifically cover all protected classes under federal & state law, including:

1. Sexual Harassment - This includes practices ranging from direct requests for sexual favors to workplace conditions that create a hostile environment for persons of either gender, including same sex harassment. (The "hostile environment" standard also applies to harassment on the bases of race, color, national origin, religion, age, disability, or any other protected classes under federal & state law.)
2. Pregnancy Based Discrimination - Pregnancy, childbirth, and related medical conditions must be treated in the same way as other temporary illnesses or conditions.
3. Age - The ADEA's broad ban against age discrimination specifically prohibits:
  - a. Statements or specifications in job notices or advertisements of age preference and limitations. An age limit may only be specified in the rare circumstance where age has been proven to be a bona fide occupational qualification (BFOQ). In order to establish that age is a BFOQ, an employer must prove that the age limitation is necessary to the success of the business and that a definable group or class of employees would be unable to perform the job safely and effectively. An example would be a mandatory retirement age for bus drivers or airplane pilots for safety reasons. The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission ("EEOC") and federal courts interpret the BFOQ exception very narrowly and schools should consult legal counsel prior to including a BFOQ in a job description or advertisement;
  - b. Discrimination on the basis of age by apprenticeship programs, including joint labor-management apprenticeship programs; and
  - c. Denial of benefits to older employees. An employer may reduce benefits based on age only if the cost of providing the reduced benefits to older workers is the same as the cost of providing benefits to younger workers.
4. Disability
  - a. Individual with a Disability
An individual with a disability under the ADA is a person who has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities, has a record of such an impairment, or is regarded as having such an impairment. Major life activities are activities that an average person can perform with little or no difficulty such as walking, breathing, seeing, hearing, speaking, learning, and working.

b. Qualified Individual with a Disability

A qualified employee or applicant with a disability is someone who satisfies skill, experience, education, and other job-related requirements of the position held or desired, and who, with or without reasonable accommodation, can perform the essential functions of that position.

c. Reasonable Accommodation

Reasonable accommodation may include, but is not limited to, making existing facilities used by employees readily accessible to and usable by persons with disabilities; job restructuring; modification of work schedules; providing additional unpaid leave; reassignment to a vacant position; acquiring or modifying equipment or devices; adjusting or modifying examinations, training materials, or policies; and providing qualified readers or interpreters. Reasonable accommodation may be necessary to apply for a job, to perform job functions, or to enjoy the benefits and privileges of employment that are enjoyed by people without disabilities. An employer is not required to lower production standards to make an accommodation. An employer generally is not obligated to provide personal use items such as eyeglasses or hearing aids.

d. Undue Hardship

An employer is required to make a reasonable accommodation to a qualified individual with a disability unless doing so would impose an undue hardship on the operation of the employer's business. Undue hardship means an action that requires significant difficulty or expense when considered in relation to factors such as a business' size, financial resources, and the nature and structure of its operation.

e. Prohibited Inquiries and Examinations

Before making an offer of employment, applicants may be asked about their ability to perform job functions, but an employer may not ask job applicants about the existence, nature, or severity of a disability. A job offer may be conditioned on the results of a medical examination, but only if the examination is required for all entering employees in the same job category. Medical examinations of employees must be job-related and consistent with business necessity.

f. Drug and Alcohol Use

Employees and applicants currently engaging in the illegal use of drugs are not protected by the ADA when an employer acts on the basis of such use. Tests for illegal use of drugs are not considered medical examinations and, therefore, are not subject to the ADA's restrictions on medical examinations. Employers may hold individuals who are illegally using drugs and individuals with alcoholism to the same standards of performance as other employees.

g. Equal Pay

The Equal Pay Act (EPA) prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in the payment of wages or benefits, where men and women perform work of similar skill, effort, and responsibility for the same employer under similar working conditions.

Note that:

- Employers may not reduce wages of either sex to equalize pay between men and women.
- A violation of the EPA may occur where a different wage was/is paid to a person who worked in the same job before or after an employee of the opposite sex.
- A violation may also occur where a labor union causes the employer to violate the law.

h. Pregnancy

The Pregnancy Discrimination Act prohibits discrimination because of or on the basis of pregnancy, childbirth, or related medical conditions. Women affected by pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions shall be treated the same for all employment-related purposes, including receipt of benefits, as other persons not so affected but similar in their ability or inability to work.

i. Race, Color, Religion, Sex or National Origin

Title VII and S.C. law prohibit discrimination (any adverse employment action) by employers of 15 or more employees on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin (the country where a person was born). Discrimination based upon national origin does not include discrimination based solely on a person's citizenship. In order to be actionable, the employment decision must have been materially adverse to the employee, which generally means a loss of compensation, career prospects or a humiliating change in work conditions.

E. Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when this conduct explicitly or implicitly affects an individual's employment, unreasonably interferes with an individual's work performance, or creates an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work environment.

Sexual harassment can occur in a variety of circumstances, including but not limited to the following:

1. The victim as well as the harasser may be a woman or a man. The victim does not have to be of the opposite sex.
2. The harasser can be the victim's supervisor, an agent of the employer, a supervisor in another area, a co-worker, or a non-employee.
3. The victim does not have to be the person harassed but could be anyone affected by the offensive conduct.
4. Unlawful sexual harassment may occur without economic injury to or discharge of the victim.
5. The harasser's conduct must be unwelcome.

Grievance Procedures

Employers should clearly communicate to employees that harassment or discriminatory practices will not be tolerated in the workplace via a thorough training program, an established complaint and grievance process and taking immediate and appropriate action when an employee complains (action may include, but is not limited to, training, counseling, warning, suspension, or immediate dismissal). It should also be clearly communicated to employees that it is unlawful for the employer to undertake retaliatory actions because the employee has filed a complaint alleging harassment or discriminatory practices in the workplace.

LSC employees are provided with a copy of the policy and complaint procedure via the employee handbook. The policy and complaint procedure should be written in a way that will be understood by all employees in the employer's workforce. Other measures to ensure effective dissemination of the policy and complaint procedure include posting them in central locations and incorporating them into employee handbooks. The employer should provide training to all employees to ensure that they understand their rights and responsibilities.

An anti-harassment policy and complaint procedure should contain, at a minimum, the following elements:

- A clear explanation of prohibited conduct;
- Assurance that employees who make complaints of harassment or provide information related

- To such complaints will be protected against retaliation;
- A clearly described complaint process that provides accessible avenues of complaint;
- Assurance that the employer will protect the confidentiality of harassment complaints to the extent possible;
- A complaint process that provides a prompt, thorough, and impartial investigation; and
- Assurance that immediate and appropriate corrective action will be taken if it has been determined that harassment has occurred.

It is also unlawful to retaliate against an individual for opposing employment practices that discriminate based on sex or for filing a discrimination charge, testifying, or participating in any way in an investigation, proceeding, or litigation under Title VII.

See Appendix Y for complaint and grievance policy.

F. Bankruptcy

Federal law generally prohibits discrimination in employment against someone who has filed for bankruptcy protection.

G. Child Labor

Generally, no one under the age of 14 may legally work in S.C., except in limited circumstances. Minors age 14 and 15 who work are subject to strict scheduling rules. Minors age 16 and 17 are not subject to the strict scheduling rules, but they are restricted from “dangerous occupations. Refer to the following resources for more information regarding child labor laws:

Federal: <https://www.dol.gov/general/topic/youthlabor>

SC: <https://llr.sc.gov/wage/>

H. Drug-Free Workplace

South Carolina’s Drug Free Workplace Act requires entities that receive grants from the state or enter into contracts with the state with a value of $50,000 or more to certify that they will provide a drug-free workplace by:

1. publishing a statement notifying employees that the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession, or use of a controlled substance is prohibited and specifying the actions that will be taken against employees for violation of the prohibition;
2. establishing a drug-free awareness program to inform employees about: (a) the dangers of drug abuse in the workplace; (b) the employer’s policy of maintaining a drug-free workplace; (c) any available drug counseling, rehabilitation, and employee assistance

- programs; and (d) the penalties that may be imposed on employees for drug violations;
3. making it a requirement that each employee to be engaged in the performance of the contract be given a copy of the statement;
  4. notifying the employee in the statement that, as a condition of employment on the contract or grant, the employee will: (a) abide by the terms of the statement and (b) notify the employer of any drug statute conviction for a violation occurring in the workplace no later than 5 days after the conviction;
  5. notifying the agency with whom the employer contracts or from whom the employer receives the grant within 10 days after receiving such notice from an employee or after receiving actual notice of an employee's conviction; and
  6. imposing a sanction on, or requiring the satisfactory participation in a drug abuse assistance or rehabilitation program by, any employee who is convicted of a drug-related offense.

Notably, the Drug Free Workplace Act does not require drug testing.

S.C. law provides for a system of merit rating for use in the writing of workers' compensation insurance and mandates a credit of at least 5 percent for an insured that adopts a program to prevent the use of drugs and alcohol on the job that includes testing. However, any drug prevention program must include a policy statement that balances the employer's respect for individuals with the need to maintain a safe, productive, and drug-free environment. And employees must be notified of the drug prevention program and its policies at the time the program is established or at the time the employee is hired, whichever is earlier. S.C. law requires that employers, laboratories, medical review officers, insurers, drug or alcohol rehabilitation programs, and employer drug prevention programs maintain the confidentiality of drug test results.

The ADA prohibits pre-employment medical examinations before a conditional offer of employment has been extended. However, a test to determine whether an applicant is illegally using drugs is specifically exempted from the definition of what constitutes a medical examination. In contrast, pre-employment alcohol testing is considered a medical examination, and thus can be conducted only after an employer has extended the applicant a conditional offer of employment. The ADA permits post-employment alcohol testing of employees only when such tests are job related and consistent with business necessity. In all cases, employers should provide advance notice of testing policies.

See Appendix C for policy.

I. Worker's Compensation

S.C. law generally requires employers who employ four or more employees to provide workers' compensation coverage for their employees. Employees injured on the job are entitled to payment of their medical bills, loss of wages, and compensation for permanent disability or disfigurement. In most cases, workers' compensation benefits are the only source of recovery for an employee, and they cannot file a separate lawsuit against their employer. An employer may not discharge or demote an employee because the employee has instituted or caused to be instituted, in good faith, any proceeding under the S.C. Workers' Compensation Law.

J. Privacy (Fair Credit Reporting Act)

Employers have specific duties when using a consumer credit report or other background check resource for hiring or employment purposes. An applicant or employee must give written consent to the employer before the employer obtains a credit report. Additionally, the employer must provide the employee or applicant with a copy of the report and a summary of their rights before the employer can take any adverse action based on the credit report.

K. Wage Garnishment

Garnishment is a court-ordered collection method available in many states to creditors which requires employers to withhold income from the pay of employee debtors. S.C., however, has no statute authorizing garnishment for most debts. Wages in S.C. are subject to earnings withholding orders for child support and spousal support.

L. Jury Duty

Under S.C. law, it is illegal to discharge or demote an employee because the employee complies with a valid subpoena to testify in a court proceeding or administrative proceeding or to serve on a jury of any court. See Appendix E.

M. Military Leave

Under federal law, an employee who leaves a permanent position to perform state or federal military service must generally be restored to his or her previous position or a position with "like seniority, status, and pay" when the individual has received a valid certificate of completion by an officer of the applicable branch of the armed forces, is still qualified to perform the duties of the position and applies for re-enrollment. See Appendix E.

N. Employee Handbooks

Under S.C. law, an employee handbook, personnel manual, policy, procedure, or other document issued by an employer after June 30, 2004, will not create an express or implied contract of employment if it is "conspicuously disclaimed.” To be “conspicuously disclaimed,” the document must contain a statement on its first page in underlined capital letters that it does not create a contract. And if the document is a handbook or personnel manual, it must also be signed by the employee. Other documents (policies, procedures, etc.) need not be signed, but they must contain the disclaimer in all capital letters and underlined on the first page.

Generally, an employee policy manual should include the following:

1. General Policies and Regulations

- Sexual Harassment and Anti-discrimination (See Appendix D)

II. Hiring Practices

An organization’s hiring practices describe the procedures you follow when selecting, orienting, and training a new employee. Employers should be able to outline various phases or steps the school will follow during the hiring process (e.g. procedures for recruiting and interviewing candidates, job descriptions and minimum qualifications for a candidate, interview and employment offer procedures). An employment application can be found in Exhibit LL.

It is advisable to either employ a human resources (HR) specialist or contract with a provider for this service. An HR specialist fills an administrative role, making sure all necessary hiring practices and procedures are followed, all applicable forms related to employees are filed with state and federal entities and employee files are maintained in a confidential manner.

A. Employment Status

South Carolina generally recognizes the doctrine of “employment at will.” Employment at will means that in the absence of a written contract of employment for a defined duration, an employer can terminate an employee for good cause, bad cause, or no cause at all, so long as it is not an illegal cause (i.e., based on discrimination or in violation of a statute). If the school elects not to contract with its employees, the school should have all employees sign an “at-will” confirmation stating that they understand that, in accordance with S.C. law, they are considered an at-will employee.

If the school elects to enter into a formalized contract with an employee, the contract should contain, at a minimum, the following provisions:

1. Title of the position;
2. Authority of the employer related to making changes to the position, salary, duties, etc.;
3. Beginning and end dates of the contract;
4. Any provisionary period and requirements for permanent employment;
5. Compensation and benefits;
6. Termination clauses;
7. Signatures of the employee and the employer

B. Interviewing

It is surprisingly easy to unintentionally break civil rights, anti-discrimination, and other laws during an interview. For all intents and purposes, during an interview one should avoid asking any questions related to:

1. Race
2. Color
3. Sex
4. Religion
5. National origin
6. Birthplace
7. Age
8. Disability
9. Marital/family status (including pregnancy)

C. Offer Letters

An offer letter is a formal written means of extending an offer of employment and is a good employment practice. Offer letters should state the following:

1. Official title of the position being offered;

2. Salary;
3. Benefits (health, retirement, etc.);
4. Instructions for accepting or declining the offer

D. Documentation

Federal and state laws require employers to obtain information about and/or report certain information about newly hired and rehired employees. The website <https://newhire.sc.gov/> contains information regarding South Carolina's mandatory New Hire Reporting, including information about online reporting and other options.

Forms for New Hires include:

1. South Carolina's New Hire Form (see <https://newhire.sc.gov/>);
2. the IRS's W-4 form (<http://www.irs.gov/pub/irs-pdf/fw4.pdf>); and
3. the I-9.

Federal immigration laws require employers to complete an INS Form I-9 to verify each employee's authorization to work in the U.S. The laws establish fines and criminal penalties for employers that knowingly hire unauthorized aliens. The laws also establish procedures for hiring on a temporary or permanent basis certain alien, including skilled workers and professionals in occupations with shortages of qualified U.S. workers.

In addition, S.C. law now requires all employers to verify all new hires through e-verify. For more information, see <http://www.llr.sc.gov/immigration/everify.aspx>

New employees should also execute either an "at-will" confirmation OR a contract, as well as sign off on the employee handbook. See Appendix F.

E. Orientation - New Staff Academy

New employee orientation and training is a crucial employment practice. Orientation should include, offered ideally during each summer for a period of seven days referred to as New Staff Academy or, if hired after July 25 of the calendar year, at a minimum of one day that includes the following:

1. Welcome
2. Tour
3. Introductions
4. Discussion of handbook (sign)
5. Discussion of school mission, organizational structure, schedules, and charter
6. Introduction to the key components of the school's culture, values, and any other information about how you do business (and how you don't)
7. Discussion of when benefits will commence

8. When appropriate, an introduction to a mentor and expectations for the mentor and mentee

F. Termination and Exit Interviews

It is generally a good practice to conduct an exit interview when the employer-employee relationship is terminated to discuss such issues as employee benefits and any conversion privileges, return of company property and payment of any debts, where applicable.

G. Grievance Procedure

The South Carolina Charter Schools Act requires that public charter schools establish “a reasonable grievance and termination procedure . . . , including notice and a hearing before the governing body of the charter school.” S.C. Code Ann. 59-40-60 (12)

III. Ethical Matters

Ensuring that teachers and other employees comply with the provisions of the Standards of Conduct for South Carolina Educators and take care to act in an ethical, professional manner at all times should be a key priority. The Standards of Conduct can be found at:

<https://ed.sc.gov/educators/teaching-in-south-carolina/professional-practices/#Cert>

A. Risk Management

There are risks associated with being an employer. Whether you are being taken to court on a liability claim or staring down an oncoming tornado during field day, risk management is the art of heading off disaster, as well as coping with it after it strikes. There are several key areas of risk with regard to employment practices which include, but are not limited to, the following:

1. Workplace hazards;
2. Wrongful termination;
3. Discrimination.

There are ways in which the above mentioned risks can be mitigated, including but not limited to, the following:

- Maintain clear and up to date policies and procedures, conduct frequent training and monitor whether or not the policies are followed and are up to date;
- Maintain proper types and coverage amount of applicable insurance policies;
- Hire and train qualified personnel;
- Maintain a grievance/complaint process and address all complaints timely and properly; and

- Proper maintenance of employee files (including job descriptions; job application and resume; all federal and state required forms; receipt of signed acknowledgment of employee handbook; performance evaluations; any written warnings or disciplinary action; any agreements between employer and employee such as employment agreement, wage garnishment, non-compete agreement etc.).

IV. Training, Motivation, and Retention

A. Staff Development

Training and retaining a quality staff is of utmost importance for school leaders. Selecting the “right” candidates to fit within your school, as well as providing adequate professional development, support, and providing a competitive wage and safe and productive working environment will help ensure high retention rates.

Schools should plan staff development that is aligned with the school’s mission and provides meaningful, timely, and appropriate training and capacity building opportunities. Staff development should be planned for every employee in the organization – including janitorial, clerical, instructional, and leadership personnel. Providing opportunities for staff input into their learning path based on reflection and job performance will help ensure that employees buy into the staff development. Proper documentation of course credits (Professional Learning Units – PLUs) should be kept on file and utilized to support employees through recertification. Staff development requires collaboration, reflection, and application, and thus, planning time for staff development is critical. Sample of required courses include blood borne pathogen, sexual harassment, FERPA, First Aid, CPR and identifying students in homeless situations.

B. Mentor Programs

Mentor programs are extremely helpful and motivating for teachers new to the profession and for teachers new to the school. A mentor is an experienced staff member who offers feedback and guidance, as well as general information on acclimation to the school. The mentor’s guidance is valuable not only with teaching practices, but also for navigating the various facets of the school culture, internal politics, policies, and procedures. A mentor should also be available to provide feedback or ideas to help develop strategies for addressing and solving problems. Mentor programs should include accountability measures for both the mentor and the mentee to ensure that the full benefit of the program is achieved.

6. To care for a covered service member (hereinafter defined) with a serious injury or illness when the employee is the spouse, son, daughter, parent or next of kin.

SECTION 2. Definitions

"Covered Servicemember" means a member of the Armed Forces, including a member of the National Guard or Reserves, who is undergoing medical treatment, recuperation, or therapy, is otherwise in outpatient status, or is on the temporary retired list, for a serious injury or illness. A member of the Armed Forces would have a serious injury or illness if he or she has incurred an injury or illness in the line of duty while on active duty in the Armed Forces provided that the injury or illness may render the servicemember medically unfit to perform duties of the member's office, grade rank or rating.

"Instructional employee or other key position" means an employee whose principal function is to instruct or directly support instruction of students in a class, a small group or an individual setting or provide an essential function such as administration which would provide a disruption in the normal operations of the school.

"Parent" means a biological parent or one who acted in place of a parent when the employee was a child. The term "parent" does not include parent "in-law."

"Qualifying exigency" may include attending certain military events, arranging for alternative childcare, addressing certain financial and legal arrangements, attending certain counseling sessions, and attending post-deployment reintegration briefings.

"Serious health condition" means an illness, injury, impairment, or physical or mental condition that involves: (1) inpatient care in a hospital, hospice, or residential medical care facility, including any period of incapacity or any subsequent treatment in connection with such inpatient care; or (2) continuing treatment by a health care provider and has been duly documented by a healthcare provider.

"Son or daughter" means a biological, adopted or foster child, a stepchild, a legal ward or a child for whom the employee acts as a parent. "Spouse" means a husband or wife.

SECTION 3. Amount and Type of Leave Taken

SECTION 3.1. Except as provided below, an employee may take a total of twelve (12) weeks during the twelve-month period of July 1 – June 30. In the event of the birth, adoption or foster placement of a son or daughter, all leave must be completed within twelve (12) months after the birth, adoption, or foster placement.

SECTION 3.2. If both spouses work for the School and both are eligible for FMLA leave, they are authorized to take only a combined total of twelve (12) weeks during any one twelve-month period to care for a newborn or adopted child, a child placed with the employee for foster care, or a parent with a serious health condition for twelve (12) weeks.

SECTION 3.3. Employees seeking to take Family and Medical Leave to care for a newborn or adopted child, a child placed with the employee for foster care, a parent, spouse or child with a serious health condition, or because of their own serious health condition, must first exhaust any personal leave, paid vacation, applicable accumulated sick leave, and any other applicable paid leave for their Family and Medical Leave.

SECTION 3.4. Intermittent or Reduced Leave

An employee may only take leave on an intermittent or reduced leave schedule when medically necessary. The School will require a certification, as provided by the Department of Labor, to document the medical necessity of such intermittent leave.

SECTION 3.5. Notification of Leave

If the need for FMLA leave is foreseeable, an employee requesting leave must provide at least 30 days advance notice to the (Executive Director or other job title). If such advance notice is not possible, the employee must give said notice as soon as practicable, ordinarily within one to two working days of learning of the need for leave. When planning medical treatment, the employee should make a reasonable effort to schedule the treatment so that any corresponding leave will not unduly disrupt the operations of the school or classroom instruction.

SECTION 3.6. Benefits and Return to Work

Employees taking FMLA leave will continue to accrue all benefits for which they are eligible that are provided by the school while on FMLA leave. The School will pay the employer's portion, if any, of such benefits. The employee will pay the same portion, if any, of such benefits as the employee paid before beginning the leave. The employee will be billed for the employee portion of the benefits and shall timely pay required premiums in order to maintain active benefits coverage. If employee is more than 30 days late with payment, the employee's insurance can be canceled. The School will send a notice of non-payment 15 days prior to terminating the insurance for nonpayment.

In most instances, if the employee fails to return to work at the end of your leave, the School will bill the employee for its portion of the health insurance costs it incurred while the employee was on leave. However, if the employee's serious health condition or some other circumstance beyond the employee's control is the cause of not returning to work, The School will not seek reimbursement. The employee will not accrue benefits, such as holiday pay, during FMLA leave. Any unused employment benefits that had accrued prior to the commencement of FMLA will be restored upon the employee's return.

With the exception of paid vacation, personal, medical or sick leave required to be exhausted prior to taking unpaid leave under Section 3.3 above, the employee's absence during leave will not alter benefits which the employee accrued before taking leave.

Generally upon return from leave, the employee will be reinstated to the former position if available. If it is no longer available, then, in most instances, a position equivalent to the one the employee held when he/she left on FMLA leave, with equivalent pay, benefits and other terms and conditions of employment. Upon proper notice, however, the Board may deny reinstatement under this policy to an employee whose salary is within the highest 10% of the employees employed by the school ("key employee") if such denial is necessary to prevent substantial and grievous economic injury to the school's operation, as determined by the Board. Employees will be notified if they are considered a key employee, if there is an intention to deny reinstatement, and of their rights in such instances.

SECTION 3.7. Required Certification and Reporting

The School requires that a request for leave due to a serious health condition be supported by a certification issued by the appropriate health care provider of the eligible employee or of the son, daughter, spouse or parent of the employee on a form to be provided by the Board.

This certification must include:

1. The date on which the serious health condition commenced;
2. The probable duration of the condition;
3. If the purpose of the leave is to care for a son, daughter, spouse or parent ("family member"), a statement that the employee is needed to care for the family member and the estimated amount of time needed for such care;
4. If the leave is due to the employee's own serious health condition, a statement that the employee is unable to perform his or her job functions. The employer may require that the eligible employee obtain subsequent recertification on a reasonable basis as requested by the School.

The School, at its own expense, may obtain the opinion of a second health care provider of the Board's choice, if it should choose to do so. If a conflict exists between the opinion in the certification and the second opinion, the School may, at its own expense, obtain a third opinion from a health care provider upon which the School and the employee jointly agree. Such a third opinion as to the necessity for the leave is binding on both the School and the employee.

Upon an employee's return after leave for his/her own serious health condition, the School may require the employee to obtain certification from a health care provider that the employee is able to resume work.

The Board may require an employee on FMLA leave to report periodically to the Executive Director on the employee's status and intent to return to work.

SECTION 3.8. Special Provisions

When an instructional employee or other key position essential to the function of the school seeks intermittent leave or leave on a reduced schedule in connection with a family or personal illness that would constitute at least 20% of the total number working days in the period during which the leave would extend, the School may require the employee to elect to take leave in a block (not intermittently) for the entire period or to transfer to an available alternative position within the school that is equivalent in pay, for which the employee is qualified, and which better accommodates the intermittent situation.

If the employee begins leave more than five weeks before the end of a semester, the Board may require the employee to continue taking leave until the end of the semester if:

1. The leave will last at least three weeks; and
2. The employee would return to work during the three-week period before the end of the term.

SECTION 4.0. Summary of FMLA Procedures

This policy is only intended to summarize your FMLA rights and obligations and those of the School. The U.S. Department of Labor has issued extensive regulations that address the many facets of leave under the FMLA. These regulations and the Family and Medical Leave Act itself are controlling and the School will be guided by and governed by the law and the regulations in addressing an employee's entitlement, if any, to FMLA leave.

SECTION 4.1. Department of Labor Forms and Procedures.

The School will use the forms and procedures provided by the Department of Labor regarding FMLA. These forms can be found at the following link:

<https://www.dol.gov/agencies/whd/fmla/forms>

SECTION 5.0. Non-Discrimination/Non-retaliation Policy Statement.

The School will not:

1. interfere with, restrain or deny the exercise of any right provided under the FMLA;
2. discharge or discriminate against any person for opposing any practice made unlawful by the FMLA; or

3. discharge or discriminate against any person for his or her involvement in any proceeding under or relating to the FMLA.

APPENDIX A
Exhibit 1

5. <sup>1</sup> Here and elsewhere on this form, the information sought relates only to the condition for which the employee is taking FMLA leave.

<sup>2</sup> Treatment includes examinations to determine if a serious health condition exists and evaluations of the condition. Treatment does not include routine physical examinations, eye examinations, or dental examinations.

circumstances exist if a healthcare provider determines that a second in person visit is needed within the 30-day period, but the healthcare provider does not have any available appointments during that time period.

(b) Pregnancy or prenatal care. Any period of incapacity due to pregnancy or for prenatal care.

(c) Chronic conditions. Any period of incapacity or treatment for such incapacity due to a chronic serious health condition. A chronic serious health condition is one which:

1. requires periodic visits (defined as at least twice a year) for treatment by a healthcare provider or by a nurse under direct supervision of a healthcare provider;
2. continues over an extended period of time (including recurring episodes of a single underlying condition); and
3. may cause episodic rather than a continuing period of incapacity (i.e., asthma, diabetes, epilepsy and the like).

(d) Permanent or long-term conditions. A period of incapacity that is permanent or long-term due to a condition for which treatment may not be effective.

(e) Conditions requiring multiple treatments. Any period of absence to receive multiple treatments (including any period of recovery therefrom) by a healthcare provider or by a provider of healthcare services under orders of or on referral by, a healthcare provider, for:

2. a condition that would likely result in a period of incapacity of more than three consecutive, full calendar days in the absence of medical intervention or treatment, such as cancer (chemotherapy, radiation), severe arthritis (physical therapy) or kidney disease (dialysis).

4. Intermittent or Reduced Leave

Intermittent or reduced leave will be granted for a serious health condition when it is both: (a) medically necessary; and (b) the need is best accommodated through an intermittent or reduced leave schedule. Intermittent leave means the employee is off work for separate blocks of time. An example of intermittent leave would be taking every Monday and Friday off in order to undergo prescribed treatment. Reduced leave means the number of hours in a day or week are reduced in order to give you the necessary time off. An example of reduced leave would be taking off every Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 1:00 p.m. in order to attend required physical therapy. The employee may be transferred in order to accommodate the request for intermittent or reduced leave or possibly place the employee on part-time status. Leave for birth or placement of a child may, if the School agrees, be taken on intermittent or reduced leave schedule (as defined above). Each request for intermittent or reduced leave under these circumstances will be considered on a case-by-case basis, but as a general rule, intermittent or reduced leave will not be granted for the birth or placement of a child.

Exhibit 2

  - b. The next step may be a request for additional information or for interviews.

APPENDIX D

  9. Consider credibility determinations. Factors include memory, perception, truthfulness, corroboration or lack of it, bias of witnesses, consistency, plausibility of accounts and prior misconduct.
  10. Review all evidence collected.
  11. Make a decision.
  12. Consider appropriate remedial action: consider a verbal warning, written warning, denial of bonus or pay raise, suspension, demotion, termination, or some combination. Also consider providing harassment training to the harasser and to all employees.
  13. Consider the following factors in determining the appropriate remedial action:

APPENDIX MM

TITLE IX SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY AND GRIEVANCE PROCESS

The definition of “Sexual Harassment” is found in Section II.B of this Policy. Instructions for making a report or complaint of sexual harassment are found in Section II.J.1. The “Title IX Grievance Process”, is Section III, and procedures for filing a formal complaint to initiate the grievance process is found in Section III.A

I. RESTATEMENT OF POLICY PROHIBITING DISCRIMINATION ON THE BASIS OF SEX.

Per Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 (“Title IX”), as well as the South Carolina Human Affairs Law (SC Code Sec. 1-13-10 et seq.) among others, the Liberty STEAM Charter School does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs and activities and/or the provision of educational opportunities including employment and admissions. All forms of sex-based discrimination, including sexual harassment are prohibited in the Liberty STEAM Charter School

II. TITLE IX SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY.

A. Application of This Policy.

While all forms of sex-based discrimination are prohibited in the school, the purpose of this policy is to address, and only to address, sexual harassment as defined in Title IX and Sec. II.B, below, that occurs within the educational programs and activities of the school, and to provide a grievance process for investigating and reaching a final determination of responsibility for a formal complaint of sexual harassment. The “Title IX Grievance Process” is set out in Sec. III below. While the School must respond to all “reports” it receives of sexual harassment, the Title IX Grievance Process is initiated only with the filing of a formal complaint.

The purpose of this Policy, however, is to address, and only to address, sexual harassment as defined in Title IX that occurs within the educational programs and activities of the school. For harassing conduct which does not meet the definition of sexual harassment under Title IX and this Policy, the School’s response will be governed under other applicable laws and policies per Board policy.

This Policy shall apply to all students, employees, and any third party who contracts with the School to provide services to School students or employees, upon School property or during any school program or activity. Nothing in this policy will be construed to confer on any third party a right to due process or other proceedings to which student and employee respondents are entitled under this policy unless such right exists under law.

Volunteers and visitors who engage in sexual harassment will be directed to leave school property and/or be reported to law enforcement, the South Carolina Department of Social Services, or other authorities as appropriate. A third party under the supervision and control of the school system will be subject to termination of contracts/agreements, restricted from access to school property, and/or subject to other consequences, as appropriate.

The [School Leader] shall have overall responsibility for implementing this Policy, and shall annually appoint a Title IX Coordinator as that position is described in Section II.C, below. The name and contact information for the Title IX Coordinator shall be updated and disseminated annually in accord with the Title IX requirements.

B. Definitions.

As used in this Policy and the Title IX Grievance Process, the terms below shall have the meaning ascribed.

“Actual knowledge” occurs when the School’s Title IX Coordinator or ANY employee of the School (other than a “respondent” or alleged harasser) receives a notice, report or information or becomes aware of sexual harassment or allegations of sexual harassment.

“Complainant” is an individual who is alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment, whether or not that person files a report or formal complaint.

“Days” shall mean calendar days, but shall exclude non-weekend days on which the School office is closed (e.g., holidays, office-wide vacations), or any weekday during the school year on which school is closed (e.g., snow days).

“Decision Maker” means persons tasked with: the responsibility of making initial determinations of responsibility (at times referred to as “initial decision maker”); or the responsibility to decide any appeal (at times “appeals decision maker”) with respect to formal complaints of sexual harassment in accordance with the Title IX Grievance Process.

“Determination of Responsibility” is the formal finding by the decision-maker on each allegation of Sexual Harassment contained in a Formal Complaint that the Respondent did or did not engage in conduct constituting Sexual Harassment Under Title IX.

“Formal Complaint” means a document filed by a complainant, the complainant’s parent/guardian, or the Title IX Coordinator, alleging sexual harassment against a respondent, and requesting that the district investigate the allegation of sexual harassment.

“Respondent” is an individual who is reported to be the individual accused of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment.

“Sexual harassment” prohibited under Title IX and by this policy is conduct on the basis of sex (including, without limitation, gender, or any protected classes under federal & state law, and/or ), occurring in a school system education program or activity that satisfies one or more of the following:

1. A school employee conditioning an aid, benefit, or service of an education program or activity on an individual’s participation or refusal to participate in sexual conduct irrespective of whether the conduct is welcomed by the student or other employee;
2. Unwelcome sex-based/related conduct determined by a reasonable person to be so severe, pervasive, AND objectively offensive that it effectively denies a person equal access to the education program or activity (this standard requires consideration of all the facts and circumstances, including, but not limited to, the ages and disability statuses of the harasser and victim and the number of individuals involved and their authority); OR
3. Sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking as defined in state or federal law. Behaviors that constitute sexual harassment may include, but are not limited to:
  - a) Sexually suggestive remarks or jokes;
  - b) Verbal harassment or abuse;
  - c) Displaying or distributing sexually suggestive pictures, in whatever form (e.g. drawings, photographs, videos, irrespective of format);
  - d) Sexually suggestive gesturing, including touching oneself in a sexual suggestive manner in front of others;
  - e) Harassing or sexually suggestive or offensive messages that are written or electronic;
  - f) Subtle or direct propositions for sexual favors or activities;
  - g) Touching of a sexual nature or groping; and
  - h) Teasing or name-calling related to sexual characteristics or the belief or perception that an individual is not conforming to expected gender roles or conduct.

Note: Incidents of the above conduct would still need to satisfy one or more of the criteria in paragraphs 1-3 of this definition. Sexual harassment may be directed against a particular person or persons, or a group, whether of the opposite sex or the same sex.

The context of behavior can make a difference between conduct falling within the technical definition of Sexual Harassment Under Title IX and conduct of a sexual nature that is offensive or hostile in itself, but which does not arise to the level within that definition. School policies prohibit both, but for purposes of its Title IX obligations the School must address reports or complaints of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment as defined above, under this specific, limited scope Policy and Title IX Grievance Process. Except as used in other laws (e.g., Title VII) or policies pertaining to harassment, including of a sexual nature, other than Title IX sexual harassment, all references to “sexual harassment” in this policy mean sexual harassment that meets the above definition.

Conduct that satisfies this definition is not sexual harassment for purposes of this policy if the conduct occurred (1) outside the United States or (2) under circumstances in which the school system did not have substantial control over both the harasser/respondent and the context in which the harassment occurred.

NOTE: Regarding Concurrent Enrollment and Dual Enrollment, Extended Learning Opportunities, 3rd Party Distance Learning and Other Alternative Instructional Programs:

Under federal regulations, in order for the School to have jurisdiction over conduct that would otherwise meet the definition above of sexual harassment, the School must have substantial control over both the respondent and the context in which the harassment occurred. In general, this will mean that unless such learning program is occurring upon district property, conduct otherwise meeting the definition of sexual harassment within that program, may not be subject to this policy.

“Supportive Measures” are free, non-disciplinary, non-punitive, individualized services and shall be offered to the complainant, and may be offered to the respondent, as appropriate. These measures may include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Counseling;
- Course modifications;
- Schedule changes; and
- Increased monitoring or supervision
- [school may add additional types of supportive services (non-punitive/disciplinary)].

Such measures shall be designed to restore or preserve equal access to the School’s education programs and activities without unreasonably burdening the other party, including measures designed to protect the safety of all parties or the School's educational environment and/or deter sexual harassment. Supportive measures shall remain confidential with exclusive exceptions stated required in Sec. II.E, below.

C. Title IX Coordinator.

The Title IX Coordinator shall respond promptly to all general reports as well as formal complaints of sexual harassment. The Title IX Coordinator shall receive general and specific reports of sexual harassment and coordinate the School's responses to both reports and formal complaints of sexual harassment so that the same are prompt and equitable. In addition to any other specific responsibilities assigned under this Policy, or as assigned by the Executive Director or designee the Title IX Coordinator will be responsible for:

1. Meeting with a complainant, and informing the parent/guardian once the Title IX Coordinator becomes aware of allegations of conduct that could constitute sexual harassment as defined in this Policy;
2. Identification and implementation of supportive measures;
3. Signing or receiving formal complaints of sexual harassment;
4. Engaging with the parents/guardians of parties to any formal complaint of sexual harassment;
5. Coordinating with School and school-level personnel to facilitate and assure implementation of investigations, and remedies, and helping to assure that the School otherwise meets its obligations associated with reports and complaints of sexual harassment;
6. Coordinating with the Executive Director or designee with respect to assignment of persons to fulfill the School's obligations, both general and case specific, relative to this Policy (e.g., investigator, decision makers, etc.; this may involve the retention of third party personnel.);
7. Coordinating with School personnel to assure appropriate training and professional development of employees and others in accordance with Sec. II.D of this Policy; and
8. Helping to assure that appropriate systems are identified and maintained to centralize sexual harassment records and data.

In cases where the Title IX Coordinator is unavailable, including unavailability due to a conflict of interest or other disqualifying reason (see Sec. II.G, below), the School Leader shall assure that another person with the appropriate training and qualifications is appointed as acting Title IX Coordinator for that case, in such instances "Title IX Coordinator" shall include the acting Title IX Coordinators.

D. Training.

All School employees shall receive regular training relative to mandatory reporting obligations, and any other responsibilities they may have relative to this Policy.

Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process, must receive training on the definition of sexual harassment, this Policy, the scope of the School's education program or activity, and how to conduct an investigation (including the requirements of the reporting and the Title IX Grievance Process, including hearings, appeals, and information resolution processes). The training must also include avoiding prejudgment of the facts, conflicts of interest and bias.

Decision-makers must also receive training on issues of relevance of questions and evidence, including when questions about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant.

Investigators must receive training on issues of relevance to create an investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence.

Materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, decision-makers, and any person who facilitates an informal resolution process, must not rely on sex stereotypes, must promote impartial investigations and adjudications of formal complaints of sexual harassment, and must be made available to the public as provided in Sec. II.H of this Policy.

E. Confidentiality.

The School will respect the confidentiality of the complainant and the respondent as much as possible, however, some information may need to be disclosed to appropriate individuals or authorities. All disclosures shall be consistent with the School's legal obligations and the necessity to investigate allegations of harassment and take disciplinary action. Examples of required disclosure include:

1. Information to either party to the extent necessary to provide the parties due process during the Title IX Grievance Process;
2. Information to individuals who are responsible for handling the School's investigation and determination of responsibility to the extent necessary to complete the School's grievance process;
3. Mandatory reports of child abuse or neglect to DSS or local law enforcement (per Board policy);
4. Information to the complainant's and the respondent's parent/guardian as required under this Policy and or the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act ("FERPA"); and
5. Reports to the South Carolina Department of Education regarding violations of the Standards of Conduct for Education Professionals. Additionally, any supportive measures offered to the complainant or the respondent shall remain confidential to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality would not impair the ability of the school to provide the supportive measures.

Except as specified above, the School shall keep confidential the identity of:

- Any individual who has made a report or complaint of sex discrimination;
- Any individual who has made a report or filed a formal complaint of sexual harassment;
- Any complainant;
- Any individual who has been reported to be the perpetrator of sex discrimination;
- Any respondent; and
- Any witness.

Any supportive measures provided to the complainant or respondent shall be kept confidential to the extent that maintaining such confidentiality does not impair the ability of the School to provide the supportive measures.

F. Retaliation Prohibited.

Retaliation against any person who makes a report or complaint, or against any person who assists, participates, or refuses to participate in any investigation of an act alleged in this Policy is prohibited. Actions taken in response to materially false statements made in bad faith, or to submitting materially false information in bad faith, as part of a report or during the Title IX Grievance Process do not constitute retaliation. A finding of responsibility alone is insufficient to conclude that a person made a materially false statement in bad faith. Complaints of retaliation with respect to reports or formal complaints of sexual harassment shall be filed under the School's general grievance process.

G. Conflict of Interest.

No person designated as a Title IX Coordinator, investigator, decision-maker, nor any person designated by the School to facilitate an informal resolution process, may have a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or an individual complainant or respondent.

H. Dissemination and Notice.

The School shall include in all student and employee handbooks, and shall make [publicly available on the school's website] {OR, BUT only if the School does not maintain a website} [available to members of the public as government records] the following information:

1. The School's policy of non-discrimination on the basis of sex.
2. The title, name, office address, email address, and telephone number of the Title IX Coordinator that shall be updated annually;

3. The complaint process;
4. How to file a complaint of sex discrimination or sexual harassment;
5. How the School will respond to such a complaint; and
6. A statement that Title IX inquiries may be referred to the Title IX Coordinator or to the Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights.

The same information shall be provided to all persons seeking employment with the School, or seeking to enroll or participate in the School's educational programs or activities.

Additionally, the School will make this Policy, as well as any materials used to train personnel as required under Sec. II.D [publicly available on the school's website] {OR, BUT only if the School does not maintain a website} [available to members of the public as government records].

I. Records and Record Keeping.

For each report or formal complaint of sexual harassment, the School, through the Title IX Coordinator, must create, and maintain for seven (7) years, record of:

1. Any actions, including any supportive measures,
2. The basis for the School's conclusion that its response was not deliberately indifferent; and
3. Documentation which:
  - a) If supportive measures were provided to the complainant, a description of the supportive measures taken designed to restore or preserve equal access to the School's education program or activity; or
  - b) If no supportive measures were provided to a complainant, explains the reasons why such a response was not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances.
4. In addition, the School shall maintain the following records for a minimum of seven (7) years:
  - a) Records for each formal complaint of sexual harassment, including:
    - (1) Any determination regarding responsibility, including dismissals;
    - (2) Any disciplinary sanctions imposed on the respondent;
    - (3) Any remedies provided to the complainant designed to restore or preserve equal access to the School's education program or activity;
    - (4) Any appeal and the result therefrom;
    - (5) Any informal resolution process and the result therefrom;
    - (6) All materials used to train Title IX Coordinators, investigators, and decision-makers.

J. Reports of Sexual Harassment, Formal Complaints and District Responses.
1. Report of Sexual Harassment.

NOTE: A report does not initiate the formal Title IX Grievance Process. That process is begun only upon the filing of a formal complaint under the procedures set out in II.J.3, and III.A, below.

Any person may report sexual harassment whether relating to her/himself or another person. However, if any School employee – other than the employee harasser, or the Title IX Coordinator – receives information of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment under this Policy, s/he shall, without delay, inform the Title IX Coordinator of the alleged sexual harassment. Failure to report will subject the employee to discipline up to and including dismissal.

A report of sexual harassment may be made at any time, in person, by mail, by telephone, electronic mail, or by any other means that results in the Title IX Coordinator receiving the person's verbal or written report. Additionally, while the School strongly encourages reports of sexual harassment to be made directly to the Title IX Coordinator, the report may be made to any School staff member, including, for instance, a counselor, teacher or principal.

If the Title IX Coordinator is the alleged respondent, the report or formal complaint may be made directly to the School Leader, who shall thereafter fulfill the functions of the Title IX Coordinator regarding that report/complaint, or delegate the function to another person.

NOTE: For any allegation of sexual assault on a student under the age of 18, such conduct shall be reported immediately to the SCDSS and other appropriate authorities. If the alleged respondent (perpetrator) is a person holding a license or credential from the South Carolina Department of Education (i.e., "credential holder"), then a report shall also be made.

2. School Response to Report of Sexual Harassment.

The School will promptly respond when there is actual knowledge of sexual harassment, even if a formal complaint has not been filed. The School shall treat complainants and respondents equitably by providing supportive measures to the complainant and by following the Title IX Grievance Process prior to imposing any disciplinary sanctions or other actions that are not supportive measures against a respondent. The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for coordinating the effective implementation of supportive measures.

As soon as reasonably possible after receiving a report of alleged sexual harassment from another School employee or after receiving a report directly through any means, the Title IX Coordinator shall contact the complainant to:

- discuss the availability of and offer supportive measures;
- consider the complainant's wishes with respect to supportive measures;
- inform the complainant of the availability of supportive measures with or without the filing of a formal complaint;
- explain to the complainant the process for filing a formal complaint.

3. Formal Complaints.

Pursuant to federal regulations, and this Policy, a formal complaint that contains an allegation of sexual harassment and a request that the School investigate the allegations is required before the School may conduct a formal investigation of sexual harassment or take any action (other than supportive measures) against a person accused of sexual harassment. Once a formal complaint of sexual harassment is received by the Title IX Coordinator, the Title IX Coordinator shall commence the Title IX Grievance Process set out in Sec. III below. The process for filing a formal complaint is set forth in Sec. III.A.

4. Limitation on Disciplinary Action.

In no case shall the School impose disciplinary consequences or sanctions against a respondent who has been accused of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment, until the Title IX Grievance Process has been completed.

5. Emergency Removal and Administrative Leave.

At any point after receiving a report or formal complaint of sexual harassment, the Title IX Coordinator (or other School official charged with a specific function under this Policy or the Title IX Process: e.g., investigator, decision maker, etc.) may request the School Leader to direct that an individualized safety and risk analysis be performed to determine whether a respondent student is an immediate threat to the physical health or safety of any person. In the event that the safety and risk analysis determines that the respondent student does present an immediate threat to the physical health and safety of any person, the District may remove that student, provided that such removal is in full compliance with the IDEA, a student's IEP and or 504 plan if applicable. Such emergency removal shall not be disciplinary. However, the School must provide the respondent with notice and an opportunity to challenge the decision immediately following the removal, and shall continue to offer educational programming until a final determination is made pursuant to the Title IX Grievance Process.

The Title IX Coordinator shall keep the School Leader informed of any employee respondents so that he/she can make any necessary reports to the South Carolina Department of Education in compliance with applicable administrative rules. In appropriate cases, the School Leader may place an employee respondent on non-disciplinary administrative leave.

III. TITLE IX GRIEVANCE PROCESS.

The Title IX Grievance Process is used only upon the filing of a formal complaint of sexual harassment as described in Sec. III.A, below. The provisions of Section I of the Policy are incorporated as part of the Title IX Grievance Process. Upon receipt of a formal complaint of sexual harassment, the Title IX Coordinator will coordinate the School's efforts to comply with its responsibilities related to the Title IX Grievance Process.

A. Process for Filing a Formal Complaint of Sexual Harassment.

The Title IX Grievance Process is initiated by way of a formal complaint ("complaint" or "formal complaint") filed by the complainant, the complainant's parent/guardian, or the Title IX Coordinator. The complainant may file a complaint or choose not to file a complaint and simply receive the supportive measures. If the Complainant does not file a complaint, the Title IX Coordinator may sign a formal complaint, but only if initiating the grievance process against the respondent is not clearly unreasonable in light of the known circumstances, and in other cases where, in the exercise of good judgment and in consultation with the School's attorney as appropriate, the Title IX Coordinator determines that a grievance process is necessary to comply with the obligation not to be deliberately indifferent to known allegations of sexual harassment (e.g., reports of sexual assault, employee on student harassment, repeat reports, or the conduct in the complainant's report has not been adequately resolved through the provision of supportive measures). If the complaint is filed by the Title IX Coordinator, he/she is not a party to the action, and the School must comply with all of the provisions of the Title IX Grievance Process relative to respondents and complainants.

If no formal complaint is filed by the complainant or the Title IX Coordinator, no disciplinary action may be taken against the respondent based upon conduct that would constitute sexual harassment under this policy.

Although there is no time limit per se to filing a formal complaint, for complaints initiated by the complainant or his/her parent/guardian, the complainant must be employed by the School or participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activities of the School at the time of filing. Additionally, although the School will initiate the Title IX Grievance Process regardless of when the formal complaint is submitted, delays in reporting may significantly impair the ability of school officials to investigate and respond to the allegations.

At a minimum, a formal complaint must:

- contain the name and address of the complainant and the student's parent or guardian if the complainant is a minor student;
- describe the alleged sexual harassment;
- request an investigation of the matter; and
- be signed by the complainant or otherwise indicate that the complainant is the person filing the complaint.

The complaint may be filed with the Title IX coordinator in person, by mail, or by email. Complaint forms may be obtained from the Title IX Coordinator.

B. Initial Steps and Notice of Formal Complaint.

1. The Title IX Coordinator will provide notice to the complainant and the complainant's parent/guardian (if the complainant is a non-eligible student under FERPA), and to the respondent (if known) and the respondent's parent/guardian (if the respondent is a non-eligible student under FERPA), as well as to any other known parties, of the following:
  - a) this Title IX Grievance Process, including any informal resolution process;
  - b) the allegations of sexual harassment potentially constituting sexual harassment, including sufficient details known at the time and with sufficient time to prepare a response before any initial interview;
  - c) "sufficient details" shall include to the extent known identities of persons involved, the conduct allegedly constituting sexual harassment, and the date and location of the incident;
  - d) a statement that the respondent is presumed not responsible for the alleged conduct and that a determination regarding responsibility will be made at the conclusion of the grievance process;
  - e) that each party may have an advisor of their choice, who may be, but is not required to be, an attorney;
  - f) that each party is entitled to inspect and review evidence; and
  - g) a reference to any provision in the School's code of conduct that prohibits knowingly making false statements or knowingly submitting false information during the grievance process.
2. The Title IX Coordinator will contact the complainant to discuss and offer supportive measures. The Title IX Coordinator may contact the respondent to discuss, and /or impose, non-disciplinary supportive measures.

3. The Title IX Coordinator will examine the allegations in the formal complaint, to determine whether even if assumed true, the allegations are sufficient to sustain a finding of sexual harassment under this Policy. If the Title IX Coordinator was not involved with preparing the formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator will contact the complainant to discuss the complaint and whether amendment is appropriate, in which case the process of Sec. III.C.4 will apply.
4. If the formal complaint fails to satisfy the definition of sexual harassment in this Policy, the complaint shall be dismissed as provided in Sec. III.G, below.
5. If the complaint is not dismissed, then the Title IX Coordinator will consult with the Executive Director as to whether the Title IX Coordinator should act as the investigator or whether a different School employee, Sponsor employee, or third party shall act in that capacity. At the same time, the Title IX Coordinator and the School Leader shall appoint the person who shall make the initial determination of responsibility (initial decision maker). [The School's policy contains additional language regarding appointment of decision maker. Can be optional language, e.g., {"Ordinarily the building principal shall serve as the initial decision maker" or "The School Leader, in consultation with the Title IX Coordinator, shall appoint an initial decision maker on a case-by-case basis.."} ] In all cases, the investigator and the initial decision maker must be properly trained and otherwise qualified (see Sec. II.D "Training", and Section II.G "Conflict of Interest").
6. If the report alleges sexual harassment by the School Leader, the Title IX Coordinator will inform the School Board Chair, the latter of whom shall have authority to seek guidance from the School's counsel, but shall not delay the School's response to the report as outlined in this Policy.

C. General Provisions and Additional Definitions Relative to Title Grievance Process.

1. Copies and Notices. Except as specifically stated elsewhere in this Policy, for any document, information or material required to be delivered to a party or to a person assigned with responsibility under the Title IX Grievance Process, the manner of transmittal may be by electronic mail, regular mail or such other manner reasonably calculated to assure prompt delivery with evidence thereof (such as a commercial carrier or other receipted delivery). Hand delivery will only be permitted if made to the School official charged with the specific function under this Policy (e.g., Title IX Coordinator, School Leader, investigator, decision maker(s), etc.). Any document required to be delivered to a minor or other non-eligible student, must also be delivered to the minor's parent/guardian. Copies should also be sent to a party's advisor if the information for the advisor has been previously communicated to the sending party. (Under federal regulations, copies of the investigative evidence, as well as the investigative report, must be forwarded to a party's advisor. See Sections III.E.3, and III.E.4).

2. Risk Analysis and Emergency Removal. At any point during the Title IX Grievance Process, the Title IX Coordinator may arrange for an individualized safety and risk analysis as described in Sec. II.J.5, following which a student may be removed.
3. Administrative Leave. At any point during the Title IX Grievance Process, the School Leader, and at his/her own discretion, and with or without consulting the Title IX Coordinator, may place an employee on administrative leave pursuant to the rules.
4. Additional Allegations. If, in the course of an investigation, the School decides to investigate allegations about the complainant or respondent that were not included in the previous notice, the School shall simultaneously provide notice of the additional allegations to the parties whose identities are known.
5. No Interference with Legal Privileges. At no point in the process will the Title IX Coordinator, the investigator, any decision maker, or any other person participating on behalf of the School, require, allow, rely upon, or otherwise use questions or evidence that constitutes, or seeks disclosure of, information protected under a legally recognized privilege (e.g., doctor/patient, attorney/client, clergy, etc.), unless the person holding such privilege (parent/guardian for minor student) has waived the privilege in writing to use the information with respect to the Title IX Grievance Process.
6. Consolidation of Complaints. The School may consolidate formal complaints of allegations of sexual harassment where the allegations of sexual harassment arise out of the same facts or circumstances and the formal complaints are against more than one respondent; or by more than one complainant against one or more respondents; or by one party against the other party. When the School has consolidated formal complaints so that the grievance process involves more than one complainant or more than one respondent, references to the singular "party", "complainant", or "respondent" include the plural, as applicable.
7. Remedies: Range of Disciplinary Sanctions and Remedial Actions Upon Final Determination of Responsibility.
  - a) "Disciplinary sanctions" are consequences imposed on a respondent when s/he is found responsible for sexual harassment under this Policy. Remedial actions are actions intended to restore or preserve a complainant's equal access to the educational programs and activities of the School.

- b) "Disciplinary sanctions" against an employee respondent may include any available sanction available for the discipline of employees, up to and including dismissal or non-renewal for any other violation of Board policy, SC Standards of Conduct for Educational Professionals, applicable individual agreement or contract, or state or federal laws or regulations.
- c) "Disciplinary sanctions" against a student may include any available discipline or sanction, up to and including expulsion, under the policies, rules and procedures that establish the school's student code of conduct.
- d) "Remedial actions" as to a respondent after a final finding of responsibility, whether employee or student, may include the imposition upon a responsible respondent of any additional non-disciplinary measures appropriate to effecting a remedy for sexual harassment, and may include such measures as no-contact requirements, scheduling adjustments, removal or exclusion from extracurricular activities, class reassignments, limits on future class registrations, restrictions on access to various spaces in the school buildings, reassignment of attendance, and similar measures fine-tuned to respond appropriately to the circumstances surrounding a successful complainant's right to access the district's program and activity.

Additional remedial actions may include recommendations that a school-wide or system-wide response is needed in order to respond to the sexual harassment in a way that is not clearly unreasonable under the circumstances. In such cases, the School Leader shall provide additional staff training, harassment prevention programs, or such other measures as determined appropriate to protect the safety of the educational environment and/or to deter sexual harassment.

D. Timeframe of Grievance Process.

The School shall make a good faith effort to conduct a fair, impartial grievance process in a timely manner designed to provide all parties with a prompt and equitable resolution. It is expected that in most cases, the grievance process will be concluded through at least the determination of responsibility decision within 80 days after filing the formal complaint. In more complex cases, the time necessary to complete a fair and thorough investigation or other circumstances may mean that a determination of responsibility cannot reasonably be made within that time frame.

1. Summary of Grievance Process Timeline.[With the exception of paras b & c, the below are timeframes merely suggested by PCSASC. Both para. b & c, however, are minimum timeframes mandated under the federal regulations.

- a) Investigation 20 +/- days as the complexity of the case demands (Sec. III.E.1)
- b) 10 days for reviewing information prior to conclusion of investigation
- c) 10 days after receiving report to respond to report
- d) 10 days for decision maker to allow initial questions
- e) 10 days for responses to questions
- f) 10 days for questions and responses to follow-up questions.
- g) 10 days for determination of responsibility decision
- h) 10 days for appeal (6 additional days for administrative steps)
- i) 10 days for argument/statement challenging or supporting determination
- j) 10 days for decision on appeal.

2. Delays and Extensions of Time.

At any stage of the grievance process, the School through the School Leader (or if the School Leader is the respondent, the Title IX Coordinator or designee) may for good cause allow for temporary delays or extensions of time upon request of either party, or on his/her own initiative. Examples of good cause may include such things as availability of parties or witnesses, school or school administrative office holidays or vacations, referral back to an earlier stage of the grievance process, concurrent law enforcement or other agency activity, or need to obtain interpreters or accommodation of disabilities. For any such delay or extension of time, the Executive Director or the Title IX Coordinator will provide written notice to the parties of the delay/extension and the reason(s).

E. Investigation.

The Title IX Coordinator will coordinate the investigation. The investigator shall be as appointed pursuant to Sec. III.B.5.

- 1. The Title IX Coordinator may conduct the investigation, or, in consultation with the School Leader, designate another qualified person to investigate. The investigation and investigator must:
  - a) Include objective evaluation of all relevant evidence, including inculpatory and exculpatory evidence. (Evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant, unless such evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior is offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the evidence concerns specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and is offered to prove consent.)

- b) Ensure that the burden of proof and the burden of gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination regarding responsibility rests on the School and not on either of the parties;
  - c) Provide an equal opportunity for the parties to present witnesses, and other inculpatory and exculpatory evidence;
  - d) Not restrict the ability of either party to discuss the allegations under investigation or to gather and present relevant evidence;
  - e) Provide the parties with the same opportunities to have others present during any interview or other part of the investigation, including the opportunity to be accompanied to any related meeting or proceeding by the advisor of their choice. The investigator may restrict any others from participating, as long as the restrictions apply equally to both parties;
  - f) Provide, to a party (e.g., respondent or complainant – and parent/guardian as appropriate) whose participation is invited or expected, written notice of the date, time, location, participants, and purpose of all hearings, investigative interviews, or other meetings, with sufficient time for the party to prepare to participate within the timeframes established in Sec. III.D, below.
  - g) Provide both parties an equal opportunity to inspect and review any evidence obtained as part of the investigation that is directly related to the allegations raised in a formal complaint;
2. Prior to completion of the investigative report, the School, through the Title IX Coordinator, must send to each party and party's advisor, if any, the evidence subject to inspection and review in an electronic format or a hard copy, and the parties must have at least 10 days to submit a written response, which the investigator will consider prior to completion of the investigative report;
  3. The investigator must prepare a written investigative report that fairly summarizes relevant evidence, including, without limitation, witness credibility, discrepancies, inculpatory and exculpatory information, and relevant School policies, rules and regulations, and the manner in which the same were made known to the pertinent school populations or specific parties. The investigative report shall include a description of the procedural steps taken, starting with the receipt of the formal complaint, and continuing through the preparation of the investigative report, including any notifications to the parties, interview with parties and witnesses, site visit, and methods used to gather evidence.
  4. The investigator shall provide the investigative report in hard copy or electronic format to the Title IX Coordinator, to each party and each party's advisor, if any. Each party will have 10 days from receipt to provide the Title IX Coordinator a written response to the investigative report.

5. It serves all parties when investigations proceed diligently and conclude within a reasonable time, which may vary case by case. In most cases, it is expected that the investigator will conclude the initial investigation, and provide the parties the evidence and other information required under Sec. III.E.2. Not more frequently than every other week, any party may request the Title IX Coordinator to obtain and provide the parties with a basic status report on the investigator's progress toward completion. In most cases, the investigator should conclude the investigation within 10-20 days [illustrative only: consult with school attorney] after receiving a Formal Complaint.

F. Determination of Responsibility and Initial Decision Maker.

The determination of responsibility of the respondent shall be made by the initial decision maker as appointed pursuant to Section III.B.5.

1. Prior to making a determination of responsibility, the initial decision maker will afford each party 10 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] to submit written, relevant questions to the initial decision maker that the party wants asked of any party or witness.
2. The initial decision-maker must explain to the party proposing the questions any decision to exclude a question as not relevant. Questions and evidence about the complainant's sexual predisposition or prior sexual behavior are not relevant, unless such questions and evidence about the complainant's prior sexual behavior are offered to prove that someone other than the respondent committed the conduct alleged by the complainant, or if the question and evidence concern specific incidents of the complainant's prior sexual behavior with respect to the respondent and are offered to prove consent.
3. The initial decision maker will provide the questions to the party/witness, with copies to each party, and provide no less than 10 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] for written responses, likewise to be provided to each party.
4. The initial decision maker will provide 5 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] each for supplementary, limited follow-up questions and 5 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] for answers, and may provide for additional rounds of follow-up questions, as long as the provision is extended to both parties equally.
5. The initial decision maker may not make any credibility determinations based on the person's status as a complainant, respondent or witness.
6. The respondent must be deemed to be not responsible for the alleged conduct until a determination regarding responsibility is made at the conclusion of the grievance process.

7. The initial decision maker may impose disciplinary sanctions and remedies as described in Section III.C7, above.
8. The standard to be used for formal complaints in determining whether a violation has occurred and/or that the respondent is responsible is [the preponderance of the evidence or clear and convincing] standard.
9. The initial decision-maker must issue a written determination/decision within 10 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] after the close of the period for responses to the last round of follow-up questions. The written “Initial Determination of Responsibility” must include:
  - a) Identification of the allegations potentially constituting sexual harassment;
  - b) A description of the procedural steps taken from the receipt of the formal complaint through the Initial Determination of Responsibility, including any notifications to the parties, interviews with parties and witnesses, site visits, methods used to gather evidence, and hearings held;
  - c) Findings of fact supporting the determination;
  - d) Conclusions regarding the application of the School’s applicable codes of conduct, policies, administrative regulations or rules to the facts;
  - e) A statement of, and rationale for, the result as to each allegation, including a determination regarding responsibility (i.e., whether or not the respondent is responsible for sexual harassment), and any disciplinary sanctions or remedies; and
  - f) The School’s procedures and permissible bases for the complainant and respondent to appeal (as set forth in Section III.H, below).

The decision maker shall provide the Initial Determination of Responsibility to the Title IX Coordinator, the School Leader, and the parties simultaneously.

G. Dismissal of a Formal Complaint.

1. The School must dismiss a formal complaint with regard to Title IX sexual harassment if the alleged conduct:
  - a) Would not constitute sexual harassment, even if proved;
  - b) Did not occur in the School’s education program or activity; or
  - c) Did not occur against a person in the United States
2. The School may dismiss a formal complaint with regard to Title IX sexual harassment if at any time during the investigation or determination of responsibility stage(s):

- a) A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator in writing that the complainant would like to withdraw the formal complaint or any allegations therein;
  - b) The respondent is no longer enrolled or employed by the School; or
  - c) Specific circumstances prevent the recipient from gathering evidence sufficient to reach a determination as to the formal complaint or allegations therein.
3. Prior to dismissal of a complaint, the person responsible at that stage shall consult with the School Leader.
  4. Upon dismissal of a formal complaint, the School must promptly send written notice of the dismissal and the reason(s) therefore simultaneously to the parties.

The dismissal of a formal complaint under Title IX does not preclude the School from continuing any investigation or taking action under other School policies, code of conduct or administrative rules/regulations. In some cases, the School may have an obligation to continue an investigation and proceed under a different policy or mandated process.

H. Appeals Process.

1. Either party may appeal the Initial Determination of Responsibility or the dismissal of a formal complaint or any allegation in a formal complaint by notifying the School Leader in writing (“written appeal”), with a copy to the Title IX Coordinator. If there are multiple determinations of responsibility, the written appeal shall specify which ones are included in the appeal. The written appeal must be received by the School Leader within 10 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] of the Initial Determination of Responsibility or written notice of dismissal being communicated to the parties.
2. An appeal under this Policy may only be based upon one or more of the following bases, which must be stated specifically in the party’s written appeal:
  - a) Procedural irregularity that affected the outcome of the matter;
  - b) New evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination regarding responsibility or dismissal was made that could affect the outcome of the matter; or
  - c) The Title IX Coordinator, investigator(s), or decision-maker(s) had a conflict of interest or bias for or against complainants or respondents generally or the individual complainant or respondent that affected the outcome of the matter.
  - d) [Additional bases may be added by a school if made available equally to both parties][consult school attorney].

Appeals for any other reason or upon any determination of responsibility not included in the written appeal will not be heard.

Appeals pertain only to the determination of responsibility and non-disciplinary remedies. Once a determination of responsibility is final per Sec. III.I, below, appeals of disciplinary sanctions may be made pursuant to the School's ordinary review process for discipline, or, to the extent applicable, any statutory or other processes provided under individual agreements or contracts.

3. Within 3 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney ] of receipt of the written appeal, the School Leader shall appoint a decision maker for appeal ("appeals decision maker"), who must have adequate training as provided in Section II.D, be free from conflict of interest as provided in Section II.G, and may not be the same person as the initial decision maker, the person who ordered dismissal, the investigator(s), or the Title IX Coordinator. Upon the appointment of the appeals decision maker, the School Leader shall provide a Notice of Appeal to each party and to the Title IX Coordinator, with a copy of the written appeal. The Notice of Appeal must include information about all deadlines and timeframes in the appeal stage.
4. Each party shall have 10 days[illustrative only: consult school attorney] from the date the Notice of Appeal is delivered to the parties to submit to the appeals decision maker a written statement, with copies to the School Leader, Title IX Coordinator, and other party a statement ("appeal statement") in support of, or challenging, the determination of responsibility or dismissal.
5. Each party shall provide copies of the appeal statement to the other party, the School Leader, and the Title IX Coordinator at the same time the appeal statement is given to the appeals decision maker. If the basis of the appeal is newly available evidence affecting the outcome, the party shall submit such evidence or a summary of such evidence along with the party's appeal statement.
6. The appeals decision maker may refer an appealed issue back to a prior point in the grievance process, with written notice to the parties, the School Leader and the Title IX Coordinator.
7. The appeals decision maker shall provide a written appeals decision after considering the record and the parties' appeal statements. The appeals decision maker will only overturn the Initial Determination of Responsibility upon a conclusion that it was clearly erroneous (i.e., either made on unreasonable grounds, or without any proper consideration of the circumstances). If the basis or one of the bases for the appeal was new evidence, the appeals decision maker may either make a determination of responsibility regarding that evidence, or refer it back to the appropriate stage of the Title IX Grievance Process. The written appeals decision will describe the result(s) of the appeal and the rationale, with copies provided to the parties, Superintendent and Title IX Coordinator, no more than 10 days [illustrative only: consult school attorney] after receiving the last of the parties' written statements per Section III.H.5.

I. Finality of Determination of Responsibility

The determination regarding responsibility becomes final either on the date that the recipient, through the School Leader, provides the parties with the written determination of the result of the appeal, if an appeal is filed, or if an appeal is not filed, the date on which an appeal of the Initial Determination of Responsibility would no longer be considered timely. The final determination shall be identified as the Title IX Decision.

Once the Title IX Decision is final, the School may implement remedies and disciplinary sanctions. The Title IX Coordinator is responsible for effective implementation of any non-disciplinary remedies, with the assistance of administrative personnel, while disciplinary sanctions will be imposed by persons charged with such responsibilities under other Board policies, regulations or administrative procedures. The School may also proceed against the respondent or complainant pursuant to the School's applicable code of conduct or other Board policies, collective bargaining agreement, individual contract or administrative rules/regulations/procedures. The issue of responsibility for the conduct at issue shall not be subject to further review or appeal within the School.

J. Informal Resolution.

At any time prior to reaching a determination regarding responsibility (but only after the filing of a formal complaint), the School may offer an optional informal resolution process (e.g., mediation, arbitration), provided that the School:

1. Provides written notice to the parties disclosing:
  - a) The allegations of the formal complaint;
  - b) The requirements of the information resolution process including the circumstances under which it precludes the parties from resuming a formal complaint arising from the same allegations, provided, however, that at any time prior to agreeing to an informal final resolution, any party has the right to withdraw from the informal resolution process and resume the grievance process with respect to the formal complaint; and
  - c) Any consequences resulting from participating in the informal resolution process, including the records that will be maintained or could be shared.

2. Obtains the parties' voluntary written consent to the informal resolution process; and in no event may the School offer or facilitate an informal resolution process to resolve allegations that an employee sexually harassed a student.
