Committee Member Anthony Jowid added that the communication of these goals is key and recommended that these goals be disseminated at multiple levels: through board and cabinet and then by each school leader to their staff.

Ken Deemer suggested that additional information be provided to explain the status of orange and red colors in each subgoal.

Anthony Jowid suggested that % progress indicators could be used in addition to the color scheme.

Farnaz Flechner suggested that a board study session be conducted on the benchmark chart to provide more information on the goals, subgoals and color indicators, and to obtain more constructive feedback.
