Recent highlights at ECHS were that an additional FTE counselor was hired, bathroom facilities were updated, an LA Fitness membership for all students was secured starting in February 2019, and a new after-school program staffed by ECHS employees is being offered.

Student Laura Linquist presented on the topic of ECHS restroom restoration. The student stated that gender-neutral bathroom is always locked and it affects the tardiness of transgender students to class. The board members asked several questions to explore the issue further and find potential solutions.

Student Fernanda Hurtado presented on the topic of shade structure for the ECHS amphitheater. The student stated the lack of shade in the amphitheater causes many of the students to either be substantially uncomfortable or even decide not to participate at major events that take place there, such as keynote speeches at Career Day. The student stated that one potential solution would be sun sails. Other potential solutions were discussed such as temporary tents/canopies.

Student Roberto Becerra presented on the topic of drug use and abuse at ECHS. The student talked about various uses of THC and their detrimental effects on the students' learning. Solutions such as backpack checks and drug-sniffing dogs were discussed, but these approaches were discarded for various reasons. The board and staff asked questions to further explore potential solutions.

IV. Reports/Presentations

A. Principals updates

ECMS-G Principal Dr. Qiana O'Leary presented the ECMS-Gardena update:

Regarding progress in Priority 1A, NWEA MAP interim assessments have taken place in Winter. Data shown reflects annual growth in each cohort in math and language. In each, there was significant growth from the prior Winter to the current Winter, which is a key way to measure academic achievement. For Priority 2A, SWDs in the class of 2019 exceeded growth targets more than non-SWDs in the areas of reading. SWDs in the class of 2020 exceeded growth targets more than non-SWDs in the areas of reading and language.

KC Fabiero presented the ECHS update, followed by ECHS Assistant Principal Jane Wyche, who presented the ECHS senior thesis project plan:

Data was shared on the Math Initiative, which is one of the four WASC goals. Growth in math was shown across all cohorts. The reading scores were then shown, reflecting several major dips from Fall to Winter in 10th- and 11th-grade scores. However, the testing data appears to be skewed and thus cannot be relied on. Further research into this issue will be done and potential future remedies relating to the testing environment will be done.

Interim Assessment Benchmarks scores were shown. Sophomores and juniors reflected growth in language and vocabulary use. Seniors were tested in research and they reflected large growth in near standard to above standard and stayed flat in the below standard category.

More data will be analyzed in future Instructional Leadership Team meetings for student groups such as English Learners, Student with Disabilities, and black and African-American students.

The senior thesis project plan at ECHS was presented. The scope of topics has been reduced and this is a change that 96% of ECHS staff has felt was effective. The requirements for the senior thesis projects were shown, which consists of a thesis paper and a civic action. Board members were invited to be on the senior thesis presentation panel on May 30, 2019.

B. CEO/COO Update

COO Farnaz Flechner and CEO Alison Diaz presented the following update:

ECS leadership has made substantial progress in developing a culture of accountability and reporting. This includes the review of student outcome data at each principals' meeting with the CEO & COO.

Progress on Priority 2c was discussed. A chart reflecting the significant percentage of people and leaders of color across all employees categories.

Progress on Priority 3 was shared. The Home Office has made significant progress in this area even as their staffing level has been reduced.

Progress on Priority 4 was discussed. New expansion high school has secured funding and hired a founding principal. New HS petition has been drafted and ECS is currently working through an extensive monitoring audit to demonstrate compliance in the charter expansion grant of which it is a grantee.
