A. Review of Old Business

B. Review of New Business

- Summary of Key Points

- Children may need grade-level instruction in order to catch up.
- The state will compensate for SPED for next year.
- We did lose 2 teachers in Q3. One left on their own accord and they were both in the same class. 2 teaching fellows have joined the class to support.
- Consulted with Mary Allison Caudell to see where our next steps would be due to confidential personnel matters.
- TI/KG check in tomorrow, 3/25/2022 to see how they can support the campus moving forward.
- Q3 & Q4 Priorities = supporting culture walks, MAP testing data, building STEM Scholar pathways
- Twice a month, KG will leverage PD for teacher leaders so they have the opportunity to get more practice.
- High engagement with parents and parent satisfaction. Little student turnover.
- Are we a school that should expel kids? A child might not be able to come to our school now, but we need to push the leaders to do more check-ins with the child to ensure that they are doing better. KG does not see any child as a problem, we just need more training and support with our Staff.
- We have added weekly teacher support that includes commanding students in the classroom. Doing it in the least invasive way possible. Use positive reinforcement with the children.
- Daily culture updates where school leadership and Network leadership where we will be given updates with the kids who are the highest priority.
- The ideal chain of command looks like: Teacher has an issue and should go to grade team leader, who then goes to leadership.
- Promotion to the next grade is contingent on behavior within the classroom along with their grades. Parents need to be involved along the way as they are our partners in success.
- We want families to understand that we are doing the right things and communicating the children's needs.
- Looking to start a parent panel to show other parents what the expectations are.
- Doing more planning in June so everyone understands their roles and responsibilities.

- Q4 has laser focus on instruction and teachers do everything they can to prioritize it from the top down.
