Evaluation of Instructional Personnel

PCHS Mission Statement: PCHS will empower our diverse student population to make positive contributions to the global community by dedicating our resources to ensure educational excellence, civic responsibility, and personal growth.

To further this mission and support current school goals, the purposes of these procedures are to evaluate employee performance, continue to improve the quality of educational services provided by employees, and to provide assistance and remediation to employees whose performance is less than satisfactory.

The goal of teacher evaluation of PCHS is to promote continued growth through an ongoing process. The process includes specific years for completing the evaluation procedures, collaboration between the teacher and administrator, and continuing reflection by the teacher with respect to their teaching practices.

Frequency of Evaluation Table

Teacher Experience at PCHS	Evaluation Schedule	Evaluation Parameters
Probationary 1 & 2	Yearly	1 st year all standards and elements ✕ 2 nd year narrowed list of standards and elements for development as identified by teacher and administrator.
Years 4-9	Years 4, 6, and 8	At least 1 element per standard for development as identified by teacher and administrator.
Years 10+	5 Year Increments	At least 1 element selected by teacher AND 1 element selected by administrator

* The teacher may request more frequent evaluations.

** An unsatisfactory evaluation requires mandatory participation in the evaluation process the following year.

*** Teachers in the Years 10+ schedule can be subject to a Focused Improvement Plan (FIP) beginning in the 2nd year of the 5-year period, consistent with the following parameters:

- 1) The need for a FIP must be based on the direct observation of classroom teaching performance by an administrator, followed by an attempt to provide guidance and assistance;
- 2) After consultation with the teacher, the FIP will be developed regarding 1 element selected by the administrator, unless a 2nd element is deemed equally in need of improvement;
- 3) If the need for a FIP is determined to exist prior to January 31, the FIP will be implemented during the remainder of the same school year;
- 4) If the need for a FIP is determined to exist on or after February 1, the FIP will be developed prior to the end of the school year and may be implemented in the following school year;
- 5) No less than thirty (30) calendar days before the end of the school year during which the FIP is implemented, the administrator will determine whether sufficient improvement has been demonstrated, and: a) if sufficient improvement is demonstrated, the process is complete and the same 5-year cycle continues; or b) if sufficient improvement is not demonstrated, the teacher will be evaluated in the following school year.

A teacher is not required to specify an element for each standard. The following rubrics should be completed for ONLY the elements a teacher is selecting as a focus standard. The teacher should select areas in which they identify a need for growth and a desire for support to meet those needs.

During the initial planning meeting, the teacher and administrator will finalize the focus standards and identify the growth targets. They also identify strategies for meeting those growth targets.

Weeks 10-20

Observations

At least two additional administrators will observe the teacher for periods of 20+ minutes. The administrators will calibrate, collaborate and share information amongst themselves and the teacher.

Informal mid-year meeting

Teacher submits completed reflection sheet. Teacher and administrator use teacher reflection sheet and observations to determine progress and identify any necessary changes/additions to the standards of focus with the specific elements and to establish new growth targets.

Mid-year reflection sheet

Teacher identifies current level on the rubric for each of the standards of focus established in the initial planning meeting. Check level of growth in the table below. Use initial planning sheet, current levels, and observation evidence to reflect on progress. Identify new focus standards and/or growth targets, if necessary

Weeks 20-40

Observations

Two to four additional observations.

Year-end reflection sheet

Teacher identifies current level on the rubric for each of the standards of focus established in the initial planning meeting. Check level of growth in the given table. Use initial planning sheet, current levels, and observation evidence to reflect on progress. Establish an ongoing professional growth plan for the following year(s) until subsequent evaluation.

Year-end meeting

Teacher and administrator meet to discuss year-end reflection sheet and final evaluation. They collaborate to establish final evaluation level on standards of focus and establish an ongoing professional development plan for the following year(s) until subsequent evaluation.

PALISADES CHARTER HIGH SCHOOL Evaluation Procedures Manual

Initial Meeting:

The administrator will provide the teacher with the following:

- The California Standards for the Teaching Practice Continuum of Teaching Practice (COP)
- Current school goals
- Procedures Manual and timeline
- Initial planning sheet

The administrator and teacher will discuss the process and how to complete the required forms.

To complete the self-evaluation on COP:

Teacher reads COP and circles their level of expertise for each element of each standard.

One or more elements is chose for growth for the school year. At least one element must be selected from standards 1-5.

Observations

One administrator will be the teacher's assigned instructional leader. This administrator will meet with you throughout the school year and will observe you several times during the school year. At least two additional administrators will observe you during the school year. At least four of these observations will be 20 minutes or longer. Teacher and administrator may agree to longer observation periods. The observations will not require additional planning on the part of the teacher and are meant to gather information and provide feedback regarding growth targets determined collaboratively by the teacher and administrator.

Weeks 1-10

Observations

Administrator will observe the teacher at least two times for a period of 20+ minutes per visit. The administrator will record observations (see appendix C) to be used in the initial planning meeting.

Initial planning sheet.

Teacher uses their self-evaluation on the California Standards for the Teaching Profession Continuum of Teaching Practice (COP) to determine the standards of focus for the school year. The teacher should complete the planning sheet identifying the standards of focus with the specific elements, their self-assessment of level of practice on the rubric, and their reflections and evidence to support their choices and assessment. Number of elements identified for focus is determined by Evaluation Frequency Table.

A teacher is not required to specify an element for each standard. The following rubrics should be completed for ONLY the elements a teacher is selecting as a focus standard. The teacher should select areas in which they identify a need for growth and a desire for support to meet those needs.

During the initial planning meeting, the teacher and administrator will finalize the focus standards and identify the growth targets. They also identify strategies for meeting those growth targets.

Weeks 10-20

Observations

At least two additional administrators will observe the teacher for periods of 20+ minutes. The administrators will calibrate, collaborate and share information amongst themselves and the teacher.

Informal mid-year meeting

Teacher submits completed reflection sheet. Teacher and administrator use teacher reflection sheet and observations to determine progress and identify any necessary changes/additions to the standards of focus with the specific elements and to establish new growth targets.

Mid-year reflection sheet

Teacher identifies current level on the rubric for each of the standards of focus established in the initial planning meeting. Check level of growth in the table below.
Use initial planning sheet, current levels, and observation evidence to reflect on progress.
Identify new focus standards and/or growth targets, if necessary

Weeks 20-40

Observations

Two to four additional observations.

Year-end reflection sheet

Teacher identifies current level on the rubric for each of the standards of focus established in the initial planning meeting. Check level of growth in the given table.
Use initial planning sheet, current levels, and observation evidence to reflect on progress.
Establish an ongoing professional growth plan for the following year(s) until subsequent evaluation.

Year-end meeting

Teacher and administrator meet to discuss year-end reflection sheet and final evaluation. They collaborate to establish final evaluation level on standards of focus and establish an ongoing professional development plan for the following year(s) until subsequent evaluation.

Final Evaluation Report:

Not less than 30 calendar days before the last regularly scheduled school day of the employee's scheduled work year in which the evaluation takes place, the evaluator shall prepare and issue the Final Evaluation Report in which the employee's overall performance and progress toward growth targets is evaluated. Prior to the end of the school year the evaluator shall hold a conference with the employee to discuss its contents. When a Final Evaluation Report is marked "Did not display growth in Standards of Focus " the evaluator shall specifically describe in writing the area of below standard performance, together with recommendations for improvement, and the assistance given and to be given.

The administrator will provide commendations and recommendations to the teacher for the standards of focus. The teacher and administrator will determine elements for an on-going teacher professional development plan.

Introduction

Context and History

California Standards for the Teaching Profession

The California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP) are intended to provide common language and a vision of the scope and complexity of the profession. They define a vision of teaching as well as professional roles and responsibilities from pre-service teacher to experienced practitioner. The standards are not set forth as regulations to control the specific actions of teachers, but rather to guide teachers as they develop, refine, and extend their practice.

The current version of the CSTP (2009) has been developed to respond to changes in the context for teaching and learning in California over the past decade and to address the pressing needs of an increasingly diverse P–12 student population. Particular attention has been paid to revising language related to student learning, assessment practices, and equitable pedagogy designed to address English learners and students with diverse learning needs. This updated version of the CSTP also looks forward to the future of teaching and learning in the 21st century where traditional classrooms and contexts are likely to be transformed through innovative technologies and globalized connections. The CSTP continue to set forth a vision for the teaching profession—one that is sustainable, engaging, and fulfilling for teachers in all stages of their careers.

Continuum of Teaching Practice

California's Continuum of Teaching Practice is based on foundational work of the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC), the California Department of Education (CDE) and the New Teacher Center (NTC) over the past 15 years. The 2010 Continuum of Teaching Practice is aligned with the CSTP, builds on California's pre-service Teaching Performance Expectations and sets forth a description of teaching that respects the diverse ways teachers pursue excellence in teaching and learning.

The Continuum of Teaching Practice is a tool for self-reflection, goal setting, and inquiry into practice. It provides common language about teaching and learning and can be used to promote professional growth within an environment of collegial support. Self-assessment data can support teachers in making informed decisions about their ongoing development as professionals. District and induction program leaders can use teacher assessment data to guide, support and accelerate professional growth focused on student achievement.

Since 1992, Beginning Teacher Support and Assessment (BTSA) Induction Programs in CA have been using formative assessment to support and inform teachers about their professional practice as they reflect and improve upon their teaching as part of a continuous improvement cycle. Formative assessment promotes and develops professional norms of inquiry, collaboration, data-driven dialogue, and reflection to improve student learning and is characterized by an inquiry cycle guiding teachers to Analyze Data and Reflect—Plan Instruction—Teach and Assess.

A formative assessment system has three essential components: standards, criteria and evidence of practice. Standards refer to the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP) and are in alignment with the P–12 academic content standards. Criteria refer to indicators of teaching practice. Evidence of practice includes multiple sources such as lesson plans, observation data, and student work analyses and is used to make valid self-assessments on the Continuum of Teaching Practice. The Continuum of Teaching Practice is one component of a comprehensive formative assessment system for teachers, based on the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP).

The Continuum of Teaching Practice is aligned to the 2009 California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP):

- Engaging and Supporting All Students in Learning
- Creating and Maintaining Effective Environments for Student Learning
- Understanding and Organizing Subject Matter for Student Learning
- Planning Instruction and Designing Learning Experiences for All Students
- Assessing Students for Learning
- Developing as a Professional Educator

The Continuum of Teaching Practice is appropriately used with data collected over time and is not appropriate for use with evidence collected on a single occasion. While the Continuum of Teaching Practice may be used to assist teachers in setting professional goals and/or launching a cycle of inquiry, the Continuum is not designed for use as a stand-alone observation or evaluation instrument.

Rationale and Use

The Continuum of Teaching Practice was developed to:

- Delineate the diversity of knowledge and skills needed to meet the varied and evolving needs of students
- Support the reflective practice and ongoing learning of teachers
- Support an ongoing process of formative assessment of a teacher's practice based on standards, criteria and evidence
- Set short or long-term goals for professional development over time
- Describe teaching practice and development throughout a teacher's career
- Support a vision of ongoing learning and teacher development
- Encourage collaboration between classroom teachers, resource personnel and families, to ensure that all students are successful

Structure and Organization

The Continuum of Teaching Practice is organized to describe five levels of development. Each level addresses what a teacher should know and be able to do in the six CSTP standards. In addition to the description of teaching in CSTP 1: Engaging and Supporting All Students in Learning and CSTP 2: Creating and Maintaining Effective Environments for Student Learning, are what students would be doing at each level of practice.

The levels do not represent a chronological sequence in a teacher's growth, but each row describes developmental levels of performance. The levels become increasingly complex and sophisticated and integrate the skills of previous levels.

In the first column, under the language of each element, is a space to record evidence of practice as related to that CSTP element. Teachers reflect and describe practice in terms of evidence prior to self-assessing in order to make valid and accurate assessments.

Reading and Self-Assessing on the Continuum

The process of assessing on the Continuum of Teaching Practice can be done individually or collaboratively. Begin by reading the element and thinking of evidence of practice related to that element. Record evidence in the space provided underneath the element for the emerging level of practice. Using that evidence as a guidepost continue across the levels of the continuum noting additional evidence or areas to pursue. Using evidence as a determiner for assessing practice. For example, if you are a novice in regards to that element, you might find your practice by reading Level 1: Emerging, and then, read one or two levels to the right of that to assess practice. However, if you are experienced in a particular element, you might read and note evidence across to Level 3: Applying and beyond.

It is critical to begin on the left of the Continuum because any practice described to the left on the Continuum is carried across to those on the right even if not explicitly stated. Highlight the descriptions that best match current practice. Date the self-assessment. Subsequent self-assessments can be in a different color highlight, to show growth over time.

A teacher may be at Level 1 or 2 in some elements of the CSTP and Levels 3 and 4 in others, no matter how many years she or he has been in the profession. Because a teacher's growth is developmental, one may return to an earlier level temporarily if there are changes in a teacher's career, such as new course content, grade level, school, or student demographics. In fact, it is not uncommon for teachers to self-assess and find they have moved from right to left on the Continuum of Teaching Practice in response to new teaching contexts, responsibilities, challenges, or even a deeper understanding of the work.

Continuum of Teaching Practice

The Continuum of Teaching Practice is not designed for use as a stand-alone observation or evaluation instrument. Developed in collaboration with the CCTC, CDE and New Teacher Center. Revised June 2012.

Glossary of Terms

The Continuum provides a common language of standards-based practice in a community of learners.

Structure

- Continuum: a document describing different levels of practice or knowledge along various stages of development.
- Descriptor: an individual cell, or “box,” corresponds to the developmental levels in the Continuum of Teaching Practice.
- Standard: one of six areas of teaching practice that comprise the CA Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTP).
- Element: a sub-area or sub-domain of teaching practice within any of the six CSTP standards.
- Level: Each level describes teaching in terms of pedagogy, instructional practices, content knowledge, learning environment, collaboration and leadership.

Concepts

Diversity: refers to culture, ethnicity, language, race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomic background, learning abilities, and learning styles.

Equity: means ensuring learning for all students.

Pre-Assessment: Used to describe assessments that are part of ongoing instruction, as each significant new instructional concept is introduced. Pre-assessments inform teachers of a wide range of students’ knowledge and abilities in order to guide instruction.

Entry level assessment: Generally used to describe an initial assessment of competencies when a student first begins a class or course of study.

Context: Real life contexts include students’ unique family and community settings as a “mirror” reflecting the familiar world; and the broader societal, cultural and global settings as a “window” looking into the larger world (E. Style, 1996).

Culturally Responsive Teaching: Geneva Gay (2000) defines culturally responsive teaching as using the cultural knowledge, prior experiences, and performance styles of diverse students to make learning more appropriate and effective for them; it teaches to and through the strengths of these students.

Academic Language: Academic language is the language (oral and written) needed by students to understand and communicate in the academic disciplines. Academic language includes such things as specialized vocabulary, conventional text structures within a field (e.g., whole sentences, narratives, essays, lab reports) and other language-related activities typical of classrooms, (e.g., participating in a discussion, presenting an argument, comparing and contrasting, asking for clarification). (revised from PACT, 2010).
