Rich gave a budget overview of total revenues, actuals, and variances. He noted the increases in budget due to a facilities grant, an ELOP grant related to expanded learning, and a CA teacher credentialing grant related to a counselor residency program. Rich spoke about an increase in special education department staffing, a REACH program, Youth Alive to support violence-impacted youth, partnerships with chronic absenteeism, and other local organizations that we fund for students.

Anna responded that LCPS has worked on alignment in types of messaging as well as cadence, additionally hoping to have increased structure in parent communications. Aisha Ford, Senior Managing Director of Teaching & Learning also praised principals in aligned messaging and the timeliness of the messaging, maintaining predictability.

The board asked when the deadline windows for applications fall, to which Anna responded that the window is Friday, February 13th, and those who apply after the deadline will have a calculated ranking for the application that considers many factors but cannot jump ahead of those who applied on time.

Hung Mai talked more about cash on hand being around 72 days, which Rich commented that this may decrease based on decisions made later in the evening related to financial strategy and teacher compensation.

E. LCPS Board Discussion: Part 3 of Long Term Finance Strategy

Rich Harrison, CEO, led the board in a discussion for members to consider what LCPS needs, wants, and wishes for. These would relate to sustainable academic programs, teacher compensation, and building TK classrooms. Rich gave a recap to the previous two discussions in regards to the discussion such as cost sustainability, strong facility improvements, and revenue assumptions. There are a few variables that relate to the discussion, such as sustainability and predictable revenue, as well as capital facility expenses and assumptions, such as federal grants.

Rich clarified that TK expansion approval at the sites is a barrier to revenues and impacts LCPS finances. Additionally, LCPS intends to use reserves rather than borrowing options due to high rates. Rich reminded the board of three scenarios related to insurance claims and gave a summary of TK costs that would be required for expansion, as well as how LCPS could break even for 2 TK sections or create a net income.
