Ms. Christa Billings shared the search timeline and that applications have started coming in.

III. Academic Excellence

A. Executive Director's Report

Executive Director Michelle Herron shared the following report:

Information to Share

Student Achievement

- State testing is still in limbo, ELPA testing will happen onsite (this is a test for English Language Learners) and we are waiting on BSD for more details about TAG testing. They were going to do TAG testing at a central location, but this may change now that schools are reopening.

Climate and Culture

- Teaching loads and schedules are not going to be balanced when we shift from CDL to a combination of hybrid and CDL, which is causing stress for some teachers. We are trying to equalize workloads, but it is not possible to make everything equitable with the number of different instructional models we have to accommodate.
- A few of our teachers are out of the areas and are not planning to return this year, so they will continue to work remotely. They are not sure if they will come back to Oregon. Not counting the out of state people, four teachers have said they are not coming back next year, and I've received reference checks from other districts for two more teachers in addition to those four. At this point, it looks like we may need to hire as many as nine or ten new teachers next year. I'm recommending a significant overhaul of our salary scale to make us more competitive so that we can both keep and recruit teachers more successfully.

- We are thinking of ways to make the first week back feel celebratory for students. It's going to be really nice to have them back in the building!

The Board asked about staff retention, trends, funding.

Professional Development

- We'll be doing lots of safety and procedural training during the week of March 29. Teachers will also use this time to collaborate with each other to help with student transitions to new teachers. Students will get asynchronous, non-graded review assignments to work on during this week.

Hot Topics - so many this month!

- Executive Order Highlights
 - No sanctions for elementary schools who start by April 5 if they use the week of March 29 to prepare for hybrid instruction. Middle school return date is still April 19.
 - No requirement to pay teachers who refuse to return
 - Parents can choose to stay in CDL for the rest of this year
- Changes to ODE guidance
 - New metrics
 - Eliminated the 100 person weekly cohort limit, but 36 or less is still recommended
 - Graduation ceremony guidelines should be out soon
 - Spacing requirement for students is still 6 feet, but there is research suggesting that 3 feet is enough, so we may see a change by Fall
- BSD schedule change for K-8 middle school students - They will come back the same week as elementary students, but Jon Bridges said it is fine for us to stick to our current timeline.
- SIA and ESSER funds
 - We don't have exact SIA numbers yet because there is a discrepancy between the amounts the state put out for charter schools who apply on their own vs. those who go through their districts. Jon Bridges is trying to get clarification. If we go through BSD, we will probably get $123,992 in 21-22 and $129,053 in 22-23, less a 3-4% admin fee.

- ESSER allocation comparisons (I believe these funds must be spent by June 2023)
 - Spring 2020 - State grant = $109 million, Arco grant = $42K
 - Fall 2020 - State grant = $450 million, Arco grant = $207K
 - Winter 2021 - State grant = $1.1 billion, Arco grant estimate = ~ $500K (should be available by mid-April)
- We have a selection team selected for the Assistant Director position and will start reviewing applications at the end of the month. The team includes:
 - Staff - Perla Murphy, Pedro Miletti, Lacy Giering
 - Parents - Lea Villalaz, Julia Crown, Becky Schiefelbein
 - Board - Christa, Erin, Shagun
- We have roof leaks and we've been getting disappointing service from our roofing contractor. The owner of the company sent a completely inappropriate email to the front office and I'm planning to file a complaint with the Oregon Contractor's Board once things settle. I spoke with Dave Dahl from P & C about the issue and asked not to use this company again unless we have to. Dave recommended that we hire a building envelope specialist to assess our issues to determine the cause of the leaks and suggest options for fixing them.

Seeking Input

- 21-22 BSD calendar (Note - Sept. 8 is Rosh Hashanah). Do we want to adopt their whole calendar? One omission I see is no conference dates, but they may be adding those later.

Decision Needed

- New IA employment agreement - Zhenia Brannon
- Operational Blueprint - We need to send this to BSD, to the Washington County Health Department and to ODE. I know it is too much to read right now. Is it possible to give conditional approval pending review and give me permission to send it by tomorrow afternoon if I don't hear back from anyone? I made it possible for viewers to comment on the form, but not edit, so you can send me feedback on specific sections if you have questions.
- Staying with BSD for SIA funding or applying on our own
