M. Huxley introduced the new Elementary School Principal Leah DeArme y who will start off by attending the Leadership Conference on June 27, 2020. The experience in teaching various grade levels, connecting well with the staff, and her values and AoA values being aligned, were among the elements that made her an excellent fit for the position.

Leah DeArme y introduced herself, and said she is excited to join the AoA family. On the school tour she was impressed by how engaged the students were, and the warm atmosphere. This is Leah's 13th year in education. She started as an Elementary School Teacher, and recently graduated from UC Berkeley's Principal Leadership Institute, which is her second degree.

Everyone welcomed Leah to the team. Leah then left the meeting at 6:50pm.

B. Board Member Reports

C. Robie, K. Zimmerman, W. Schaff, A. Price and D. Forbes had nothing special to report.

R. Brown, as a parent of a middle-schooler, expressed how much she appreciates how well the home-schooling works.

Q. Chu, as a parent of two elementary-schoolers, echoed R. Brown. Communication works great, teachers are helpful and add personal touch with extra material. However, while "Phase 1" has been somewhat static learning, creating opportunities to discover and learn new things would be welcomed in "Phase 2".

R. Whittaker shared the following: Alameda Arts is an afterschool program at 3 Alameda elementary schools. They have paired nearly 100 kids as pen pals, across 7 states & 2 foreign countries. They are posting do-at-home projects on their website and exploring the use of Zoom as a platform for virtual Show & Tell.

E. Review The Executive Director's Succession Plan

Executive Director, Matt Huxley, reviewed the short-term Executive Director Succession plan. Board members said that it would be helpful if it included a clear process of distributing key roles to other school/organizational leaders on a temporary basis. They also discussed the need for developing a structured long-term plan make sure that is a smooth transition when the Executive Director leaves that position and another one is hired.

F. Temporary Suspension of A Board Member Due To Illness or Other Factors

D. Forbes brought up for discussion a scenario "what if a board member got sick with COVID-19"? AoA's legal council had suggested that in such case the board member could resign and rejoin afterwards. Taking that action would make it easier to meet the quorum.
