E. Teacher Report

Laura reported that the K-2 students celebrated the 100th day of school with 100 collections and practice counting to 100, they had virtual celebrations of love and friendship in honor of Valentine's Day, and also learned about African American history and the Lunar New Year. Third graders began an Energy Project, and celebrated SSKF Day (Super Secret Kind Friend Day) with their fourth grade friends. Students were given a secret friend. They created paper dolls for their SSKF that included food and a setting that represented what that person liked. The dolls were mailed to the students' home. They had a reveal party. Once the SSKF's were revealed, they had connection time together virtually and created stories with one another. Seventh/Eighth graders did a "Styletribes" project with the guiding questions: How might young people use style differences to define themselves? and How might young people use style differences to associate themselves with a particular trend or group?

Students learned/explored how youth (both present and throughout modern history) have used style and dress as a form of self-expression and belonging. They then worked in groups of 3 to invent their own Styletribe. This was a four week project that culminated last week. All students K-8 are currently finishing up the second round of Growth MAP testing. Teachers have met with both Lisa and Mary in discussions about our VCS reopening. Teachers who will be teaching Hybrid are busy getting their rooms ready for students. DL teachers are busy making room for their partners' classroom items that need to be stored. We now know what we are teaching but are anxiously awaiting our new class lists. There is much to be done to get ready to safely welcome students back on campus, as well as making plans to create new virtual crew communities.

F. Directors' Report

Lisa reported that the Equity Statement has gone through multiple drafts and is on the agenda; MAP testing is currently being conducted and that she is working on class lists for hybrid classes. Mary reported that she is completing necessary forms to apply for ESSER and Title 1 funds.

VCS Equity Statement

From its founding, VCS has been rooted in educating and empowering children to advocate for and contribute to a just and hopeful society.

We are a community that continually prioritizes a climate of purposeful inclusion and belonging.

We strive to engage with and learn from the lived experiences of Latinx, BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, People of Color) and LGBTQIA+ (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer, Intersex, Asexual, +) communities, as well as immigrants, people with differing abilities, people of varying religious beliefs, and cultures/groups who identify on the margins or outside of dominant culture.

We acknowledge that societal inequities place particular groups at an advantage while disadvantaging others. We reject systemic racism and the use of privilege and bias against marginalized groups.

As anti-racist educators, we learn from the diverse voices of a multicultural world, challenge the normalization of racial disparities, and empower children to be advocates and allies for a more equitable world.
