E. Teacher Report

Laura reported that Kindergarten had a fall festival with lots of pumpkin fun, and are starting their expedition on farm workers; Amanda, Sarah, and Lisa did a walk through of classrooms; 4th grade continue to work on their Passion Project by conducting interviews with professionals who share students' passions; students are learning how to use research, quotes, cites and how to make their writing more complex. This will eventually become a 4th grade informational magazine booklet. They have also had two virtual field trips as part of their California History project. Students are learning from the stories from Anthropologists and docents. She shared photos of 7th and 8th graders during a Crew on initiatives and students debriefed their challenges, successes, and shared appreciations; students analyzed a model of 8 globes displaying the earths' tilt and its revolution around the sun. Using the model, students were able to identify the causes of seasons on Earth.

All teachers just completed a first round of Parent/Teacher conferences. Laura also shared that teachers continue to have Professional development with Sarah Purdy, our EL school designer. All teachers are in one of four focus groups. These focus groups are: Instructional Leadership Team, Crew/SEL, Equity/Diversity, and Curriculum-ELA Team. We continue to work several Wednesday afternoons a month in our focus groups.
