Q9 - Additional comments, if any.

Additional comments, if any.

Our administration at the elementary are the best. They are really good with the children, and really care. We are lucky to have them. They are the best.

Too many administrators. Too many coaches. Use that money to hire another Kindergarten teacher to give them smaller classes. Smaller class size in the younger grades would allow teachers and assistants more time for individualized instruction and behavior modifications. Therefore, less of that would be needed in upper grades because students would have a better foundation to build on.

Teryl is very supportive and visible.

Please add options for comments on each question. Admin are friendly and nice, but does not have the leadership needed for this position.

I love them.

This year, I feel like administration is taking some positive steps to address issues facing our school. The last couple of years have been challenging for a number of reasons, including Covid. I appreciate the ways in which they have stayed positive and looked for solutions.

We have great administration!

I would like the Elementary principal and vice principal to be consistent on their decisions rather than trying to please everybody.

nope

I love Kasey and Teryl and know how much they care about the school, students, and staff!

Although I feel the administration is approachable and friendly, I feel they either are unable to make decisions or make quick decisions without all information need and then end up changing their minds. There is a lot of inconsistency and flip flopping. There never seems to be one person in charge or willing to take on the weight of any one issue. Too many chefs in the kitchen so to speak.

The elementary administration is always visible and always willing to listen.
