C. Education Committee

Stacey discussed her experience with the training she did with the Alliance for Public Waldorf Education.

Stacey discussed training about the role of the board:

- Not to micro-manage,
- Understanding shift from planning/founding board to implementation board.
- The Board is ultimately responsible for how students perform on state exams and for fiscal responsibility.
- Board needs to reassess their needs moving forward. Shan mentioned the goals and skills survey Stan has been discussing.
- Day to day running of the school should be entrusted to the employees.

- Understanding relationship and role of board member to parents, when to speak with Margaritte.
- The board should be discuss how to handle conflicts within the school community that are brought to their attention.
- Future discussion: budget uses, unrestricted reserves of 10%, office shouldn't handle cash, fundraising, gifts.

Amber discussed the Summer Institute:

- Jared Coady will be talking about the philosophy of Waldorf, deeper discussions of anthroposophy, meditations, help with lesson planning, chalkboard drawing, crayon drawings.
- The rhythm of the day: start with singing, then learning time, next break, learning time, lunch, teacher independent work session, then artist expression time, then closing verse.
- The teachers are reading How to Know Higher Worlds by Rudolph Steiner
