IV. Financial Committee Report

A. January 2026 Financials

Erika Estrada-Olufade reviewed the January 2026 financial statements, including revenue, expenses, cash flow projections, and the aging summary report.

Revenue Update

Local revenue is trending above projections due to the RedefinED grant payment received in November. Federal grant budgets, including Title and IDEA funding, remain pending final approval and drawdown. Administration is actively coordinating with the appropriate contacts to submit required budgets and facilitate access to funds.

State QBE funding has been reduced to lower enrollment counts. Overall, both revenue and expenses are currently trending below budget.

Expense Overview

Certain expense categories trending above the year-elapsd benchmark reflect planned investments supported by Charter School Program (CSP) funding, including consultant services, facilities-related expenses, and marketing efforts.

Cash Flow Forecast

The primary risk to cash flow remains the timing unpredictability of federal and grant reimbursements. Expense management continues to be monitored closely to ensure stability while awaiting grant drawdowns.

Aging Summary Reports

The aging report was reviewed. Continued monitoring of payables remains a priority to support cash flow management.

B. Fundraiser Update

Ajuah Helton provided an update on planning for the upcoming fundraising brunch and progress toward the event's fundraising goal.

Planning for the event is underway, including ticket sales, sponsorship outreach, and silent auction preparation. Current fundraising totals indicate progress toward the overall event goal, with additional revenue expected through ticket sales, auction participation, and event-day giving.

Board members were encouraged to support the event through ticket purchases, outreach to potential attendees, and participation in fundraising efforts.

Event logistics were briefly reviewed, including program elements, guest participation, and the inclusion of a pledge opportunity during the event to encourage additional contributions.
