A. Review of Third Amended Board Bylaws, Board of Directors Manual and Related Policies

The main agenda item was a discussion on governance documents, including bylaws, articles of incorporation, board manual, and policies. The focus was on potential edits or revisions, with particular attention to grounds for removing or appointing directors.

The Board provided positive feedback on a video presentation summarizing governance documents. A consensus was reached on the majority preference for decision-making. The discussion then shifted to electronic communication protocols, emphasizing the importance of avoiding reply-all to maintain clarity and prevent accidental emails. A suggestion was made to bring prospective board members to meetings for familiarization. The board expressed appreciation for the work presented, with Steve emphasizing the unique qualities of the board's focus on students and trust in executive leadership. Larry highlighted the importance of board members understanding electronic communication protocols.

The conversation continued with a point of clarification on majority versus supermajority decisions. The preference for a majority was confirmed. The meeting also touched on the possibility of new board members serving different terms, with considerations for mentorship and transition.

B. Executive Director/CEO Succession Planning

The Executive Director/CEO Succession Plan outlined emergency and planned scenarios, including leadership development pipelines and external searches if needed. The board discussed the importance of involving potential successors in board meetings and ensuring a smooth transition.

C. Performance Evaluation Planners for 2023/24

Megan presented a comprehensive Performance Evaluation Planner, emphasizing the importance of clear expectations and the five Cs of documentation – clear, concise, correct, complete, and communicated.

Megan highlighted the mid-year assessment process, self-assessments, peer assessments, and annual assessments. The board was provided with sample assessment questions. The presentation concluded with a discussion on performance improvement tools, including verbal counseling and written reprimands.

The board commended Megan's thorough and practical approach to performance management, with Larry suggesting the inclusion of examples of good and bad write-ups during training. Megan discussed the gradual introduction of tools to supervisors and expressed her commitment to ongoing support.
