Community building was emphasized, with successful monthly events like a bowling and ice cream social, and regular in-person meetings for staff which included team-building exercises. These efforts were aimed at strengthening the sense of community within the school.

Academically, the principals focused on enriching learning experiences through the GATE program, a curated curriculum collage for hands-on learning, and intensive reading programs that include a new reading class and a dyslexia screener process, which is ahead of state requirements. They have also focused on aligning educational support between different tiers of student needs, improving overall academic support.

For the upcoming year, new initiatives include the introduction of elementary grade-level homerooms to further community feeling among students and a focus on enhancing writing skills. Additionally, they welcomed two new counselors who have contributed significantly, developing resources like the Counselor Corner website for college and career preparation.
