Dr. Webber wished the Da Vinci Girls' Volleyball team good luck as they were playing that evening in Moreno Valley.

Dr. Brann commented that the old Dana site was undergoing demolition, and spoke of the history of the site.

B. From the CEO/Superintendent

None

C. Presentation: Badging and Certifications

Ms. Natasha Morrison, Director of Real World Learning, spoke of Da Vinci's program to connect students to industry and real world learning experiences. She spoke of the Strong Workforce Grant that Da Vinci has been awarded, one part of which is for badging and certifications. Claire Fisher, of The Arena, has been working with Da Vinci on researching badging and certifications for students.

The Arena is a non-profit consultancy reimagining the school-to-work pipeline. Ms. Fisher spoke of the students who fall through the cracks in the transitions between learning and working. The Arena works with schools and districts on career-oriented trainings to position students to succeed.

Three areas to improve career-readiness are:

Badging - the smallest "chunks" of career learning that can be embedded in high school coursework. The Arena has narrowed to 10 badging providers.

Credentialing - "last mile" training, similar to a degree - these are pathways that would lead students to full-time jobs. The Arena works with 11 organizations that they have vetted.

Dr. Webber inquired about how The Arena and Da Vinci can fit into such a rapidly evolving space.

Ms. Fisher spoke of the newness of badging and how The Arena works to become the expert on knowing the landscape and which badges are valuable and easily embeddable into high school. Dr. Brann commented that he believes employers need to see the value of badging.

The next steps are refining the program model and brokering partnerships with providers.

Ms. Morrison shared that Ms. Fisher has been helping to discover which badges can be incorporated into Da Vinci's programming.

Ms. Fisher noted that schools, especially Da Vinci, are in a position to think about providing students a path toward a successful real life instead of just a college degree.

Dr. Brann thanked Ms. Fisher for her work on such an important topic for Da Vinci Schools. Ms. Morgan asked if there are other neighboring high schools doing this work. Ms. Fisher shared that she knows that there are a few schools providing more of the soft skills. Ms. Morrison commented that there are not many schools doing the work - many are talking about it, but no high school is doing the work of embedding the program at scale.

Dr. Wunder shared that when Da Vinci started 13 years ago, the goal was "college for all," then "accessible and affordable college," but now, the realization is that there are other pathways for students, including trades, trainings, and college. The true goal is for students to lead happy, successful lives.

Mr. Ochoa commented that he believes aerospace companies could benefit from students who have skills, not necessarily degrees.

D. Student Board Member Update

Dr. Hawn introduced the student board members presenting: Victoria Jackson from Design, Chiamaka Offokansi from Science, Aaron Diaz at Connect High School, Zirak Engineer from Connect TK-8, and Christian Salinas from Communications.

Ms. Jackson spoke of the Student Led Conferences held at Design over Zoom, which she felt were effective. There were also fundraisers, the Senior Bonfire, Spirit Week, and Halloween-themed Community Dialogue.

Ms. Offokansi shared that SLCs and Spirit Week were also held at Science, college representative visits, and Human Body Systems projects featuring interactive labs and Civil Engineering visiting Downtown L.A. to study buildings.

Mr. Diaz spoke of the SLCs at Connect High School, the Southern California College Fair, HCBU Virtual Information Sessions, the Western Harvest Festival.

Mr. Engineer spoke of the SLCs, Cultural Fair, and commemorating the passing of middle school teacher Melvin Johnson.

Mr. Salinas shared that SLCs, Latinx Heritage Month-focused Community Dialogue, fun events like the Senior Bonfire, Fall Kickback, Volleyball playoffs, and Spirit Week have helped students balance the work and stresses of high school.

Dr. Webber commented that she has been enjoying the creativity students have displayed during Spirit Week.

E. Financial Update

Mr. Amato shared the September financials, saying that Da Vinci's cash position remains strong. Federal, State, and Local revenue are on all target. Personnel expenses have been impacted by the timing of hiring; some positions have been filled later than expected. Non-capitalized student equipment costs (hotspots, Chromebooks, etc.) are running high due to unanticipated equipment replacements. Mr. Amato is awaiting the word on a grant which could offset those costs.

Mr. Amato also shared that electricity bills are higher than anticipated. Mr. Bravo and his team are working on verifying accurate billing and efficient usage.

Brief discussion on deferrals ensued; Da Vinci has been repaid for all prior deferrals.

Mr. Amato went on to share enrollment and ADA data vs. projections for each school site.

Ms. Rainey spoke of the unexpected transiency of the Connect student population, which has impacted staffing.

Dr. Brann shared his view that this is happening all over the country, and that Da Vinci's ADA budgeting should be kept conservative.

Ms. Levenson shared that all waitlisted 9th grade students who chose Connect High School as their first choice have been offered a space. The enrollment team continues its outreach to all Connect families and area middle schools. Ms. Rainey added that Connect has a staff member solely dedicated to supporting families in asynchronous learning. She shared that having an actual facility to show families will help boost enrollment. She has been conservative in adding staff positions due to lower enrollment, considering only what is currently needed as opposed to staffing for growth.

Mr. Amato shared the data for Communications, Design, and Science. Mr. Denniston commented that about half of CSMC's clients are experiencing a significant enrollment drop. In his research, districts statewide are losing students, and turning to marketing efforts.

Dr. Brann feels that declining enrollments have been hidden behind the hold harmless, and that for the next 10 years, declining enrollments will be an issue for many districts.

There were no questions from the Board on the ESSER III reports, so Mr. Amato turned to the auditor agreement with Christy White, saying that the agreements are for one year, although the pricing is valid for three years. Dr. Brann commented that Da Vinci is obligated to use the same auditor as its authorizer.

F. Operations Update

Mr. Bravo shared that the Girls' Volleyball team won their match in Moreno Valley. Dr. Webber asked for logistical information on the games; Mr. Bravo promised to have the Athletic Director send the information to the Board.

Mr. Bravo spoke of the "big ticket" items like the soccer field, the cell phone enhancer, cooling tower, and Sandbox. Sandy Pringle and Associates is being retained to assist with obtaining DSA approval for Da Vinci's construction projects.

Mr. Bravo also shared that a new policy at the L.A. County Parks and Recreation requires the Board to approve an agreement for the use of Del Aire Park facilities.

He briefly spoke of ongoing safety and security maintenance efforts.

He thanked the Hawthorne Police Department, Liza Somilleda and the Wiseburn Education Foundation, and the El Segundo Police Department for the bike safety class. He hopes it will become an annual event early in each school year.

Mr. Bravo spoke of WattStoppers, a company Da Vinci has retained which has already discovered issues that have affected Da Vinci's electricity bills.
