II. Closed Session

A. Expulsion of Student(s) (Information, Discussion)

Summarizing in generalities, during each closed session, the relevant student and his/her parent(s) attended, as did school administration. The Chair, Chan Lengsavath, introduced all members present and described how the appeal hearing would work to the families. CASLV's legal counsel, Mr. Gardberg, added that the school would afford the parents procedural and substantive due process, and briefly described what each one is (e.g., the former entails (i) notice of the charges and evidence, which the parent received in the letter that described the events/occurrences and the decisions made by the discipline committee, and (ii) an opportunity for the parent and student to be heard). Mr. Gardberg added that the parent(s) and the student are encouraged to express everything they needed to say—i.e., now is the time—to ensure it is entirely fair and gets to the right result. Administration described the details of the incident(s), including a summary of the written statements and the physical evidence collected, after which the student and his/her parent(s) presented their information. The Board questioned the parties present. The Board then had a very lengthy discussion before returning to open session with a decision. Both cases were deliberated separately.
