B. Board Training Session #1 (Information)

Dr. Brian Carpenter presented on two topics: "Eight Strategic Planning Considerations for Your Charter School to Flourish" and "Helping the Board do the Heavy Lifting: The Three Indispensable Charter School Board Committees."

During the training sessions, various comments were made by the board:

- Dr. Warren: Expressed a desire to retain the Academic Committee. Dr. Gunozu and Dr. Ercan supported this view. It was agreed that more time should be allocated for this discussion, and there was consensus that the focus on academic issues should continue.
- Mr. Lengsavath: Suggested that examining financial source documents in detail may be more intensive than necessary or rational in this context.
- Ms. Hayman: Highlighted a strong sentiment for improving staff morale, rewarding staff, and incentivizing the community. She noted that the Board should increase its participation in school events. Principals shared their impressions on this matter. It was emphasized that successful campuses should not be overlooked; they require resources and attention just as much as other campuses.

C. Board Training Session #2 (Information)

Ms. Carrie Stewart and Mr. Fulton Breen conducted the training session about the importance/responsibility of the financial committee's oversight. The board convened to discuss the 5 Cs of charter school financial governance, emphasizing the need for clear role definitions between the CEO, Finance Lead, and Board, ensuring effective stewardship of public funds. The board reiterated its commitment to providing a high-quality education for students by maintaining fiscal responsibility. The 5 Cs—Clarity, Collaboration, Communication, Consistency, and Commitment—were highlighted as key pillars for sound financial governance. Strategic partnerships, prudence, and meaningful connections were noted as essential factors in ensuring financial health and alignment with the school's mission.

This training involved a lot of discussion and engagement with the board.

D. Board Committee's Structure Review (For Possible Action)

Ms. Diggins announced she will be leaving the CASLV Board Presidency position in May, but she will remain on the board. Information only, no action.
