V. Academic Achievement

A. Student Achievement Report

Rachel explained the team has create this dashboard for the board and committee to use moving forward to keep student achievement data a top priority pos-pandemic. We anticipated it but the data is suggesting serious learning loss for our students and we need to accelerate their learning as fast as we can. Big takeaways from the data are that student performance of students meeting expectations, those who we expect to meet expectations 2. on MCAS are behind where we've been in the past. We need to put strong ELA and Math interventions in place. Our older students performed better than our younger students, this has been true all year.

Ashley asked everyone to look at the historical MCAS data, pointed out that in previous years at least 50% of our students were meeting expectations on MCAS. We are now projecting that only 38% of our students will be meeting expectations. This is concerning to us, the data from MAP and ANet tests are similar.

Some of the things we are doing at the start of the school year to address student needs:

1. We've adopted a new math curriculum which has pre-assessments built in so that teachers and leaders can see where kids are at the start and plan to spend our time in the most impactful ways.
2. In terms of literacy, Emily Baecher has been planning interventions all spring to be ready to meet our students reading needs.
3. We are working with Meredith and David Liben, nationally known reading experts, to help us use effective reading interventions for older students.

SGP is the most important metric to us, historically we have been in the 50-80 range. The data point that helps us predict SGP is MAP growth percentile. The growth percentile on this is much lower than where we've historically landed on the MCAS.

Trustees asked about MAP and how we know it is valid and with who we are compared. All this data is directional and points to significant need for acceleration of learning. The board needs to be focused on academics over the next several years to provide strong oversight around acceleration.

Denise asked about students with IEPs and how we were supporting them upon return and if we we. Ashley talked about some of the supports and the structures that are in place. We will continue to monitor progress of the special ed sub-group.
