Silbia Pagan discussed the changes that the middle school is going through:

- All middle school teachers will have their "planning" time after the students leave for the day, to encourage teamwork with the elective teachers.

- The middle school does not have traditional PE, similar to high schools where there is a PE elective. The PE substitute class will be dance/performance arts.
- The high school counselor will meet with 8th graders during one period during the school year.
- She will also focus on how the 6th graders maintain their averages so they are eligible for the DREAM scholarship which will pay for SHSAT tutoring.
- In terms of technology, the goal is that each student has had some exposure to typing, digital media.
 - The question of tracking BSNBCS alumni was brought up. The school is inquiring about how to create an alumni tracking process for graduates; an alumni association.
 - The one student who went to Brooklyn Tech will return to speak with the BSNBCS students.

The amount of computers in the classrooms has been increased.

The focus of the parent engagement initiative will be to encourage the scholars development in education. September 20th- Dad Take Your Child to work & May 20th is the 4th Health and Wellness Fair. Elisabeth Young will be the contact for parents in regards to parent initiatives.

The Chairman requested any information that parents receive should be sent to the Board as a FYI.

Lisa-Renee Brown is the final process of hiring an associate. One of the goals of the CFO is to be in closer communication with the Treasurer.

BSNBCS is continuing its after school program. Due to the state funding it is free for 6-8 grades and the price has been frozen for K-5. The school will have a free lunch program, where the school will pay lunch for all students. All trips will be funded by the school.
