Update from Board of Directors Meeting, 9 December - Charles Penny

BOD was pleased with the progress of the committee as conveyed by Charles at last week's meeting. He apprised them of our decision to move forward with interviewing three top consultants. They appreciated the research and thoughtfulness that went into choosing these candidates. Also looked forward to budget finalization with the BOD at the January meeting.

III. D & I Task Force Action Items

A. Review / Discuss

Consultant Interviews

1 - Contact with candidates to schedule interviews - Hotep (Hustle University) had contacted Kim Iles in recent days inquiring about follow up, and whether we were interested in setting up an interview. Mike O'Malley will get together with Kristen Martin and Dr. Davis to ascertain whether contact has indeed been made and/or how to follow up quickly. He will apprise Kim of status shortly. In the meantime, Kim will maintain correspondence with Hustle and will let them know that we definitely plan to include them in the interview process in January. Team will follow up with the other two candidates (Jen Cort and Dr. Lanier) as well, if they have not yet been contacted.

Strategic Plan

Is our statement on Diversity in our Strategic Plan accurate? Does it reflect all of the stakeholders as well as the four pillars that our committee has set out? Can we review the wording to ensure that this is reflective of our current efforts?

Yes, it is included. However, the Strategic Plan will be reviewed once again in March so we should consider rewording for that revision.

CREED-NC website

Discussion and examination of the website. How can we include some of these principles in our thought process and planning? Can we integrate some of their teachings into our own four pillars?
