D. Open Meeting Law Complaint Findings - OML 2025 – 167

Open Meeting Law Complaint Findings - OML 2025 – 167

It was noted by the President based on the letter shared by the Attorney General that the board did not violate the Open Meeting Law as alleged by the complaint Emily Pfeiffer.

However, the Attorney General did express concerns regarding the apparent procedural lapses relative to those executive sessions. Upon review, they noted that the minutes revealed several instances where the Board did not appear to follow the required procedure when entering executive session. For example, when convening in executive session pursuant to Purpose 2, a public body must identify the specific nonunion personnel that is the subject of discussion, unless disclosure would compromise the public body's negotiating position.

Additionally, and perhaps of greater concern, at least two of the Board's calendar entries and meeting notices gave the impression that the Board was to meet in executive session without first meeting in open session. Prior to convening in executive session, a public body must first meet in open session. The public body must meet in open session to vote to enter into executive session; this vote could fail, or the public body could otherwise choose not to convene in executive session.

The president acknowledged that this was an error based on her initial understanding from reviewing her predecessor's labeling of meetings on Board On Track, and that it was understandable why this would be a concern and why this perception would exist, so she wanted to ensure that the entire board understood the concerns to ensure we are following the correct procedure.
