[This document is linked in the Head of School report and in public documents for this meeting.] COVID rates are obviously quite high right now, and so reopening isn't immediately pending or anything.

IV. Academic Oversight Committee

A. Discussion Item - Committee Report

Jan shared the report from the Committee's recent meeting. They worked on the reopening plan and going over data from families and staff surveys. Parents of younger children are the most eager to have a return to in-person instruction. Looked like there would be some "matching" that would later be able to happen of appropriate staff and students to return. Want to look at academic and attendance data to understand who might come back first -- who needs the most help and for whom distance learning isn't the best option. The committee discussed the academic goals that the Board looked at earlier this week, and the committee meets again next week.

Daniel shared about working with teachers to think about prioritizing individual students -- and not all of those students' families will want them in-person even when that later becomes an option.

Davis asked about being fully back in-person by end of school year. Krishna shared that distance-learning will remain an option for the rest of the year. We don't even have an approved vaccine for any one, and definitely not one approved for younger people.

No public comment on this item.

[There is a FAC report in the documents section of this meeting.]

Loren shared the leadership of the three committees.

The Communications working group has been working on a UMCS Community Business Directory, to help support one another in the community.

Kara held a meeting, and worked with Krishna. Prioritizing the work of the three committees; with predictable work schedule and agendas, and also increasing representation and inclusiveness in the FAC. Like UMCS Staff, the FAC is now planning to also work with Dr. Rachelle Rogers-Ard.

Jan asked about the racial and linguistic backgrounds of the FAC, and Loren shared that is majority "White presenting" and "female presenting" -- didn't want to say exactly how folks identify for themselves. Thus, the need to do more work in creating a much more inclusive body.

Jan asked about any initiative on helping families with holiday/winter related support, like around coats, meals, or gifts. Loren shared that there is not a UMCS specific effort. Krishna shared that the school continues to be available when families have specific needs, and some resources to match families with in need.
