II. Academic Excellence Committee

A. Role of Academic Excellence Committee in Distance Learning

B. Implementation of Criteria for Excellence Documents in Remote Learning

Completing the Criteria for Excellence ...

- Use and Implementation
 - How do we want this to look in the fall, if remote?
 - How do we mold it to fit remote learning
- Developed to integrate well with remote or hybrid learning, but not developed for Remote Learning specifically
- Have other departments review math Criteria for example of final form?
- Really figuring out the purpose of the document
 - Organized by level of thinking?
- Teachers should go back and look at their curriculums
 - Does every student get an opportunity to use/demonstrate these skills?
 - Refine curriculum units, lesson planning
 - Goal is to eventually lead to improved Exhibition projects/assessments
 - Gives parents a common understanding - ease parents' fears around any misunderstanding of curriculum intentions
 - written for teachers/adults
 - learning targets with student friendly language
 - reorganizing Curriculum Maps - what's best in person vs. what can be done at home?
 - Extra week of PD at start of next school year?
- Academics vs. Communication
 - "balance for parents - not too much or too little information"
 - Answering the question - "Why are we doing this?"
 - this is how you demonstrate excellence
 - year after year spiraling
 - students reflecting
 - previewing for parents - here's the unit and why
 - At Committee level - defining academic excellence and then ensuring HoS, principal are implementing
