Executive Summary

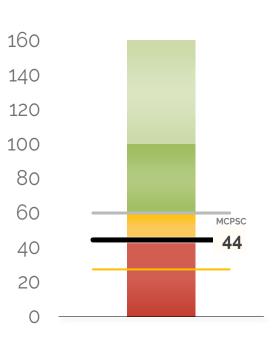

- CCS closed June with year-end cash of 2.9M, representing 44 days of cash, slightly higher than May forecast, and 17 days more than originally expected.
- Budget performance was better than expected, as the school finished with a surplus of 1.35M, including debt service, 1,15M higher than board approved budget.
- As has been documented throughout the year, state revenue, because of funding equity, was $900/WADA higher than budget. In conjunction with improved expense management that led to total expenses being less than 2% variance from budget, the school was able to bounce back strongly and position itself well for FY26.

Crossroads Charter Schools' Dyslexia Plan

The purpose of this document is to outline the actions of Crossroads Charter Schools as it relates to identifying and servicing students at-risk for dyslexia. This is in accordance with the provisions of Section 167.950, RSMo. Nothing in this document should be used to supplant or postpone the IDEA or Section 504 eligibility determination process should a disability be suspected.

Universal Screening

Screening will identify students who are at risk of reading failure, be used to identify need for intervention, plan instruction for intervention, and determine exit criteria for intervention windows.

The following actions will be taken in accordance with state department guidance:

- First through third graders will be screened within the first thirty days of the school year, mid and end of the year benchmarking. Progress monitoring shall occur for scholars not meeting norms.
- PACE/Kindergarten will be screened by January 31 and end of the year. Progress monitoring shall occur for scholars not meeting norms.
- Transfer students shall be screened within the first 30 days of entering if not previously screened.
- A scholar will be screened in grades 4-12 if experiencing consistent difficulty in phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, or comprehension as noted by assessment scores, classroom teacher determination, or requested by the student's parent/guardian.
- Exemptions:
 - Existing diagnosis of dyslexia
 - Students with a sensory impairment (visual/auditory)
 - Severe intellectual disabilities
 - English learners where native language assessments and properly trained bilingual staff related to administration and interpretation of results is unavailable.

Building administrators and/or the building Instructional Leadership Teams will determine who best to complete student screenings. This could include classroom teachers, reading specialists/teachers, reading tutors, instructional coaches or any combination therein.

Dyslexia Screener

DESE acknowledges that there is no one test or tool that encompasses all the recommended skills and recognizes that the universal screening process alone is not sufficient to identify students with dyslexia, however they can reveal specific weaknesses that are consistent with dyslexia. DESE suggests that the following skills are essential to identify deficits related to dyslexia, and to guide intervention.

Kinderaarten

- Phonological awareness (words, syllables, rhyming, onset-rime, blending, and syllable and word segmentation)
- Sound/symbol recognition
- Alphabet knowledge (letter naming fluency)
- Rapid automatic naming

First Grade

- Phonological awareness (segmentation, blending, isolation, manipulation)
- Sound/symbol recognition
- Alphabet knowledge (letter naming fluency)
- Word recognition fluency
- Orthography
- Reading comprehension

Second & Third Grades

- Phonological Awareness
- Oral reading fluency
- Word recognition
- Reading comprehension
- Orthography

The following assessments will comprise the dyslexia screener at Crossroads Charter Schools. Scores will be tracked to determine whether students show a pattern of dyslexic tendencies.

Universal Screening: All Crossroad Charter School students will be screened using the NWEA Measures of Academic Progress reading assessment as well as the Fountas and Pinnell reading assessment. Students scoring in the bottom 25th percentile based on the NWEA will then be assessed using more specific measures:

Analysis of Data

Assessment results will be analyzed in grade level or building Instructional Leadership Teams (ILTs) through a systematic process consistent throughout the district. These systems and processes should be utilized throughout the year, including progress monitoring periods. Students with deficits according to the assessments listed above will have specific identified instructional focus in the areas of phonological awareness, phonics, fluency, or comprehension as noted by the assessment.

Supports and Accommodations

Crossroads' teachers will provide reasonable classroom supports that are low-cost and based on effective best practices, such as oral exams or extended test-taking periods. A list of possible supports provided by DESE is listed at the end of this document.

Professional Development for Dyslexia

Crossroads District will provide two hours of dyslexia inservice training to all practicing staff. The training may include an introduction to dyslexia, dyslexia simulation, provide information on intervention, screening, progress monitoring, data based decision making, fidelity, and classroom supports.

Interventions for Students With Dyslexic Tendencies (From DESE Guidance Document)

"In the 2018-19 school year and subsequent years, the school board of each district and the governing board of each charter school shall provide reasonable classroom support consistent with the findings and recommendations of the task force created under section 633.420. "Support" is low-cost and effective best practices, such as oral examinations and extended test-taking periods."

The following is a list of example accommodations that benefit students with dyslexia. Note that not all students at risk for dyslexia will require all the possible supports. It is important to match and scaffold the supports with the student's individual need.

General

- Utilizing multi-sensory approaches
- Establish repeated exposure & review
- Check often for understanding
- Balance individual, small group and large group activities
- Provide extended time for oral responses
- Provide extended time for written responses
- Make available teacher-provided study guides
- Offer teacher-provided lecture or movie notes
- Provide taped or recorded lecture
- Reduce copying by providing information on worksheets or handouts avoid copying notes or outlines from boards or overheads, allowing students to focus on processing information instead of laboring to write it and losing the intent and meaning.
- Avoid far and near-point copying
- Avoid use of worksheets that require "page flipping," e.g. map on one side of page, questions on other side. Provide students with two sheets of paper so that questions and source material can be in the same field of vision.
- Provide chapter/subject outline of curriculum for each semester/course syllabus
- Provide list of relevant curriculum-specific vocabulary in advance
- Present new information in small sequential steps
- Present curriculum using a "top-down" approach -- provide meaning first, then fill in facts
- Present curriculum through a variety of modalities
- Use manipulatives when possible in math & science
- Provide models or examples
- Use graphic organizers
- Use visual aids
- Provide two sets of textbooks -- one for home and one for school
- Use marker to highlight important textbook sections

- Use peer readers
- Provide interesting reading material at or slightly above the student's comfortable reading level
- Maintain daily routines
- Encourage use of planners & calendars
- Provide accommodations for directions
- Use both oral and printed directions
- Chunk directions into small steps using as few words as possible
- Outline number and sequence steps in a task
- Have student repeat the directions for a task
- Show a model of the end product of directions (e.g., a completed math problem or finished quiz)
- Stand near the student when giving directions or presenting a lesson to provide proximity.
- Provide visual aids
- Consider page layout and font usage when creating classroom material; avoid script, irregular columns, break information into smaller chunks on page. Use 12 to14-point font in evenly spaced sans serif fonts such as Ariel and Comic Sans; avoid underlining, italics, and text in bold caps. Provide ample space for written responses. Arrange work from easiest to hardest.

Environment

- Provide structured time for organization of materials (set up laptop at beginning of class; allow additional time to update planner)
- Offer preferential seating, e.g. close to positive role model, close to board, close to teacher
- Guide opportunities for student response in manner that supports memorization challenges
- Post charts, graphs, number line, etc. in class, including alphabet charts and number charts (assists with letter & number formation & working memory issues)
- Do not use round-robin reading or read out loud unless student volunteers
- Evaluate the classroom structure against the student's needs (flexible structure, firm limits, etc.)
- Keep the classroom quiet during intense learning times
- Provide noise buffers such as headphones, earphones or ear plugs
- Reduce visual distractions in the classroom
- Keep workspaces clear of unrelated materials

Technology

- Provide technology tools- laptop, tablet, headphone, microphone, printer, scanner for teachers & students
- Provide training for use of technology for teachers & students
- Provide a computer for written work

- Allow student to type written work
- Provide access to digital text & materials (textbooks, workbooks, chapter books)
- Provide access to audiobooks through services like Learning Ally and Bookshare memberships
- Permit the student to record class lectures/use a Livescribe Smartpen
- Provide access to word prediction software, text-to-speech software, extensions, typewriter to edit fillable forms; PDF worksheets (teacher scans worksheet & worksheet can then be edited by student using tools; document conversion)
- Provide access to word prediction software, text-to-speech & speech-to-text software or extensions for written assignments
- Have an integrated, consistent technology "package" in place when the student begins the school year
- Provide access to assisted listening device

Social / Emotional

- Gauge frustration levels
- Provide a variety of activities in which the student can demonstrate mastery and success
- Allow for frequent breaks and vary activity (when frustrated)
- Provide frequent positive feedback and reinforcement
- Praise effort and process, not just final output
- Allow access to school counselor if needed
- Be sensitive about pull-out services; Does the child always miss gym?
 Is gym a class that helps the child "get through the day?"

Assignments

- Give directions in a variety of ways
- Give oral prompts or cues
- Avoid penalizing for penmanship or spelling errors
- Allow student to record or type assignments
- Offer use of scribe
- Provide extended time for completion
- Reduce pen-to-paper assignments
- Give option to give oral presentations instead of written reports
- Shorten assignments or break large assignments into chunks
- Give advance notice of assignments
- Provide clear expectations for assignments; provide rubrics
- Model or give examples of expected finished output
- Provide opportunities for interest-based projects
- Avoid word searches, crossword puzzles, letter jumbles or "fill in the letter" riddle math sheets

Tests / Exams

- Consider performance-based measures
- Use alternative test formats

- o Fewer selections for multiple choice
- o Chunk matching questions into smaller sections
- o Give word bank for fill in the blank, and short answer
- o Provide word bank for "labeling tests," such as states & capitals, parts of a microscope, etc.
- o Avoid essay questions
- Allow extended time for completion
- Read test to student
- Provide alternative seating for testing (so test can be read to student away from peers)
- Allow tests to be taken in a room with few distractions (e.g., the library)
- Conduct testing over multiple days
- Avoid penalizing for spelling, punctuation or grammar
- Allow oral responses or scribe
- Allow the student to complete an independent project as an alternative test
- Give advance notice of test and exams, allowing additional time for studying

Math Assignments & Tests / Exams

- Read and explain word problems, or break problems into smaller steps.
- Allow use of times tables chart or math charts / calculator on assignments & exams
- Allow use of graph paper for working math problems or allow students to turn lined paper vertically creating columns for numbers

Crossroads PD Plan 2025-2026

Overview/Analysis

During the 24-25 school year, Crossroads focused on strong instruction occurring every day through lesson internalization, increasing student ownership, and teacher feedback. As a result, each school has renormed the process for lesson planning and internalization of existing lessons, implemented active monitoring, and provided PD on student ownership. Based on the TNTP scorecard report, the percentage of lessons with strong instruction district wide increased by 7%, and the lessons with grade level content increased by 10%. However, student ownership showed minimal growth. Our 23-24 state testing scores showed significant gaps in math and inconsistent growth in other content areas. Early indicators for 2025 state assessment scores suggest strong growth in math but inconsistent growth in ELA. Through feedback sessions with teachers, they desired greater differentiation of PD and more consistent PD, particularly in the later half of the year. Additionally, our annual survey showed the lowest affirmative responses to the following questions

- Scholars are always engaged in meaningful, academically rigorous learning
- Materials, resources, and professional development needed to work with special education students are provided.
- Effective resources and training are provided for teaching students across different languages and cultures.

For the 25-26 school year, Crossroads is focusing on Unlocking the rate of student and teacher growth through ownership, particularly through a practice based development cycle for teachers, academic celebrations and showcases, formative data analysis, and a continued focus on student ownership. Crossroads Board Committees

Purpose:

Committees are formed to enable in-depth discussion on a set of related issues. Committees allow the board to explore, ideate, and drill-down in a way that would be less efficient in a full board setting or in the public eye. Committees allow for thorough research and consideration of information which frees up more time at regular meetings for other Board business. Committees help build ownership and accountability among the members and build a more cohesive board-administrative working relationship.

Four Standing Committees:

Governance Committee

The Governance Committee leads our board's recruiting strategy, leads new board member orientation, organizes our board's annual retreat, leads board evaluation (individual and collective), review and update board policies, monitor board compliance, and ensures the board receives necessary professional development. The committee also supports in capital projects

Development Committee

The Development Committee assumes the primary responsibility for raising non-grant funds to support the organization's mission. Fundraising is a skill and a profession. The members on this committee should be seasoned development professionals or have some fundraising experience. They should know how to develop and implement a realistic fundraising plan, and mentor the other board members in this area in order to obtain 100% board giving.

Finance Committee

The Finance Committee works with the Executive Leadership Team to create the upcoming fiscal year budget, presents budget recommendations and monthly financial reports to the board, monitors implementation of the approved budget on a regular basis, recommends proposed budget revisions, and recommends policies for the management of the organization's assets.

Academic Excellence Committee

The Academic Excellence Committee measures the academic results of the organization against the goals established in your charter, accountability plan, and annual goals. This means measuring organizational outcomes against stated goals for metrics such as performance on state tests, national standardized tests, or interim assessments. This committee can also review metrics such as attendance, discipline, student and staff retention, and family and staff satisfaction surveys. This committee ensures that the board and Executive Leadership Team share the same vision of academic excellence, that all board members understand the charter's academic promises, and leads the board in conducting proper oversight of the academic program.
