II. Principal Updates

A. Principal Update - MetLCS K - 8

Kurt presented the NYC School Quality Review for the K – 8. He provided a bit of background on this report from the NYC DOE. Parents overall ranked the school very highly. Next, scholars overall had positive feedback on the school in key areas such as trust. An area of growth from their perspective is rigorous instruction. Teachers were the “lowest” of the sub-categories and areas of growth include one such as School Leadership. Kurt discussed the timing/challenges of the survey (such as the month it is administered near state testing) and his overall reflections. Aaron requested Kurt to think about how this impacts his next month.

Kurt will have updated data from K - 2 at next Thursday's meeting. His Assistant Principal Ms. Shiman will attend and talk through the work the school is doing and the MOY mClass data. NWEA test results will be furnished in February due to testing still taking place.

Vanessa Herrera (talent) will be in town next week and is attending a local Professional Development to further enhance her knowledge/skills and ultimately the school's recruiting/retention efforts.

Interim Assessments will take place later this month. In March a mock state test will be administered for scholars in grades 3 - 8.

B. Principal Update - MetLCS 9 - 11

Tyra shared some additional perspective/background on the NYC School Quality Report. Effective leadership is a growth area for the school. This is challenging as Principals are rating officers for the school. Other key areas are also important to review such as Rigorous Instruction, Collaboration, and more. There are several areas where the school is meeting the standard. For areas where there is growth (such as Effective Leadership) additional efforts are put in place such as follow up surveys and work by individuals such as Vanessa Herrera. Tyra provides support to her teachers such as Professional Development, articles, and the school has formed a school culture committee which is still in development.

The school is in the range of a high impact/high performance school in terms of scholar performance. The city provides the school with a comparison group (scholar demographics, etc.). The school is also compared to the city and the borough.

January is Regents month. Scholars will engage in these assessments and assessment retakes (English Regents). Tyra shared NWEA data/goals is limited at the high school level and talked about intervention supports for scholars such as Read 180.
