English 10 Cultural Identify Essay

I
Growing up I had a great childhood. My two families were great. We hosted many parties when I was younger. I remember how every morning felt, I'd wake up excited and the air was sweet. My parents would be outside setting up the tables and chairs. Then suddenly I would smell the spices coming from the kitchen, my grandma would make a huge pot of pozole enough to feed a whole town. Throughout the day family would arrive and the music would start playing louder and louder. The food, the music and everyone singing together all felt magical. I love my culture. My Cultural identity can be defined by food, holidays, clothing, hobbies, music, language, and even one's religious affiliations. My ethnic identity is Mexican/Honduran, and my national identity is American. This identity is mostly defined by music, food, and language. My mother's side is Honduran and my father's side is Mexican. Most of my identity comes from my Mexican American side. Ultimately I identify as Mexican/Honduran/American.

Music has a huge impact on my life because it's one way I can express myself and feel who I am. From all three of my cultures American and Mexican music has been my top favorite mainly American. Rap and Hip Hop are my life. I grew up listening to Tupac, Bone Thugs-N-Harmony, Biggie and so many more artists. Growing up in America specifically in California South Central LA this music is mainly all I hear. It gives the harsh truth of reality and open-minded lyrics of the real world which I can appreciate. My uncle helped me find other artists such as Kanye West, Kendrick Lamar, J Cole, and Kid Cudi which I listen to way more often now. Hearing this music has made me a more calm, open-minded person. We would rap together and make dumb beats but those vibes are nostalgic now. I mostly listen to lyrical rap which has helped me relax and helped me focus more clearly. Although I mainly listen to Rap and Hip Hop Spanish music will always have a special place in my heart. Corridos, cumbias, and rancho are what my family and I play during parties. When I was younger I would always go to parties and my Family would all dance together and have fun. Depending on what was playing we'd have people crving or we'd have people screaming their lungs out. My grandma and I would always dance
