D. Presentation on Academic Data

CAO Kristen McGregor gave the academic data presentation. Dr. McGregor described the professional development that was taking place for writing, a half day PD with K-2 and a full day with 3-8th. She explained the goal to include both writing and math across the curriculum. She stated that with the new data position, there is a huge data base of academic data available. She noted that were academic performance dips correlated to lack of fidelity with platforms.

She described the development of a cohesive evaluation and support system that covered the instructional planning, the learning environment, teaching and assessments, as well as aligned observation criteria and understanding. She emphasized that the observation focus was looking at teach-ing, not teachers.

In regards to academic data, she provided a high level overview of SBAC data, Advanced Placement performance and administration and teacher turnover rates. Board member Sandoval asked what steps were being taken to support administrators and what PD opportunities they were engaged in. Dr. McGregor explained that she was onsite providing support and that administrators have attended conference. Sandoval asked McGregor to describe her role and McGregor provided additional explanation of coaching and support for classroom walkthroughs.

The board also asked what was being done about high turnover and Matt Brown explained that TEACH was planning to raise teacher salaries to be more competitive.
