Curriculum and instruction

I had fourteen (14) pre-observation conferences with teachers. They were asked to provide three (3) goals they want to work on. Most teacher wanted to work on "using questions and discussion techniques." The goals needed to be based on the Charlotte Danielson's framework. Observations are scheduled to take place during October. Only one has taken place so far on September.

Teachers have been submitting their lesson plans consistently. The lesson plans are based on: standards and essential questions to establish the goal of the lesson, vocabulary, an activating activity at the beginning of the lesson, strategies for teaching including pair, small group and individual work, formative assessments and summarizing at the end demonstrating that the goal was met and if not, teacher will need to redirect their teaching by differentiating instruction.

Interventions

Ms. Ray is intervening as follows: 17 Students are scheduled for interventions. 16 are receiving reading interventions. 1 is receiving math intervention. Other interventions will take place as needed.

Ms. Gellman's: 22 interventions in Spanish (14 of these students are ELLs) 1 intervention in ESL

The mentor and the new teacher meet four times for the following sessions: 1. School Introduction, 2. Danielson's framework. 3. Formative assessments. 4. Classroom management. 5. Standards Aligned System

Subject Meetings

The teachers are working through the subjects teams taking place on Wednesdays on organizing their standards and collecting classroom data. By next month we will have some data as to how students are doing in each class. We will begin strategizing after that as to what we need to do to increase the student's' academic level.

School Culture and Behavior School-wide activities

Ms. Malone provided the following: A lesson to introduce self-control to our students. All teachers implemented it the same day. Twenty to thirty (20-30) minutes lessons in every classroom, K-6 (total of 14 lessons) in earning bucket drops for self-control and kindness for the students. Twenty two (22) students have been celebrated for practicing self-control. We have not received any behavioral referrals as of September 22, 2016.

Building

Naima has solicited two bids estimates for the purchase of the paper products that Gettysburg School District won't be providing any longer. The Gettysburg School District estimate is $ 3210.00 and Holtz is $3900.00.

We had our first fire drill on September 7th. It was successful!

We had asked the Gettysburg School District for a secure fence for the area where students have their recess and they have agreed to let us post a sign to ask people not to trespass during school session.

Also, Gettysburg SD has agreed to remove the name outside the building for the Eisenhower Elementary school but reiterate that this will always be the Eisenhower Center.
