III. Other Communications

A. CRCS meeting with MCSC School Performance Committee

June 5th update of where we are and their areas of concern. Our latest NWEA data and performance measures - CRCS now meets or exceeds all but one of the academic performance expectations.

Chronic absenteeism continues to be a concern for both CRCS Administration and MCSC. Have identified barriers for learners and families. Increased messaging to families. We have not found a correlation between absenteeism and academic performance. Next strategies -

- getting coaching from Maine DOE as a Tier III school as a community/network
- start conversations around CRCS core values and accessing programming and be more explicit with families about valuing having learners in school
- planned absences for appointments or medical reasons will have a form for parents/caregivers accountability
- continue to analyze data

MTSS/RTI for absences is going to be a focus for the fall. Have focused on academics, now bringing in absenteeism and developing strategies as a team from a wholistic approach. Bringing in bus drivers.
